2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: President

A Dream

My vision for the Sanggunian is to be a student government that values the constituency it serves and the community it is part of by *understanding their context, pushing for relevant reforms and engaging the community. This is my dream that is wish to share and pursuit with YOU, in for growth and progress.

Context

The Sanggunian has always strived to serve the student body through providing services, creating projects and policies in the past few years. However, one thing that is lacking in the student government's services is context. The Sanggunian has been prescribing solutions to problems that they themselves may not understand fully. I propose two things to improve this situation.

- a) Enhance representation in the committee on Formation Services and committee on Academic Affairs through incorporating the Course and Block Representatives in these. In the past school years, these committees have been limited to the Central Board of the Sanggunian and have been dealing with issues while having difficulty in consulting students. Adding the representatives would allow for a greater scope with regards to consultations and at the same time, give these Course Reps and Blocks Reps an opportunity to lobby for changes to the Central Board as well.
- b) Have representation of accredited and unaccredited student organizations, athletes and political entities in the Committee on Extracurricular Activities. An Atenean's student life isn't complete without the small communities that foster the passions of the people who are part of it. The Sanggunian should be a body that helps these smaller communities to realize these passions. It has tried through collaborations but it hasn't really addressed what these groups need which is a voice in the Sanggunian. Giving these valuable student groups representation in the Sanggunian would enable them to forward concerns with regards to budget, school policies and lobby for reforms as well. The Sanggunian on one hand would be able to understand further what the pressing concerns are of these groups and address them accordingly.

Reforms

As the body that represents the body to the administration, the Sanggunian should be the body that dialogues and when necessary lobby for changes with regards to our school's policies. In my term, two things that will be addressed would be policies with regards to the inefficiencies of Office of Administrative Services and the disbursement of funds to student organizations. To do this, the Department on Research and Statistics will be commissioned to create on study and gather data on the issues of students with regards to these policies. The Committee on Administrative Services will then be tasked to use the results of the study to create recommendations to further improve these services and make it better for both sides. These will then be lobbied to our administration so that dialogue could be started and necessary changes could be made.

Engagement

Every Atenean should be given an opportunity to find the niche in the community wherein he or she can flourish. I believe that Sanggunian should be the ones to actively pursue in being able to provide these opportunities to the students. For us to be able to do this, all students must be given the avenues to achieve it. To provide these spaces for the students, the following will be done by the Sanggunian.

- a) Increase funding for grants to have budget be used productively. As part of the Central Board, which is the body of the Sanggunian which is given the power to approve budget, I observed that a large portion of money allocated for many Sanggunian initiatives remained unused and therefore remain stagnant. In order to address this, I intend to raise the past budget allocated for grants so that more student groups which have plans and visions that are being hampered by lack of financial resources to be realized.
- b) Revisit issues that the Sanggunian has involved itself in the past year and identify areas for action. In the past administration, the Sanggunian made its voice heard through the release of stands and statements on pertinent issues on mining, APECO and the RH Bill. It has recognized the importance of its participation on these issues because as Father Jett Villarin put it, “when the Ateneo speaks, the country listens”. However, it should not just stop here. The next step now is to look at what has happened, see if there was progress and identify what else we can do. To do this, the Committee on Socio Political Affairs in partnership with interested political parties and organizations will be commissioned to look at these different issues and provide avenues for discussion and discourse that is aimed towards action. In the end, my dream for every Atenean to become the change that he or she wants to happen.

Let's make this dream happen.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: President
Full Name: Daniel Antonio S. Remo
Name on Ballot: Dan Remo

PLATFORM

We must retake ownership of Sanggu, as its current structure no longer effectively responds to the needs of the Student Body. I envision a Sanggu actively seeks to empower students. We will do away with top-down approach—which has been allowed to persist within Sanggu—must be replaced with a system that actively seeks student involvement and offers straightforward solutions. I envision a critical LS community, which under my presidency will focus on 1) Devolving and decentralizing power; 2) Reaching out to student groups; 3) Engaging actively and consistently in local and national issues; 4) Advancing the interests of students 5) Making Sanggu services more accessible. Let us live the Ateneo D.R.E.A.M.

Devolving and decentralizing Power

Our duly elected Block and Course Representatives should be the focus of Sanggu, which the current constitution fails to realise. We will regularly call for a House of Representatives that will give Reps the opportunity to directly express their concerns directly to the Central Board. Furthermore, Reps will be given the power to directly influence Sanggu. All meetings of the HoR shall be given priority in the Central Board. More importantly however, we must address the issue of Reps of having little or no say in the current system. We will immediately push for a change in our Constitution by convening an Assembly of different student political parties, organization and interested individuals.

I believe that batch councils should have more power to be able to address the concerns of students. We will mandate that every batch council have departments that mirror the departments of the central board. I believe that representatives and batch officers should be given the power, authority and autonomy to address the needs of their batch. I will actively encourage our Batch Officers to regularly convene to discuss and resolve batch-related issues.

School Boards should be more autonomous. We must also create a culture of debate within the Sanggu, where the School Boards will express their opinions and create stands on issues. Furthermore, we will work with the Finance Officer to establish means for the School Boards to have greater access to our finances.

I will revive the Ateneo Student Concern Center, which will have the autonomy and authority to expediently solve students' problems, and communicate between students and the Administration. I envision Reps to take a lead role in the operation of the new ASCC. Reps should have the tools to be able to resolve the concerns of their batch and classmates.

Reaching out to student groups

Organisations are vital to student life. We need a more cohesive Sanggu that actively dialogues with its sectors and branches. We will encourage regular meetings with our COA and ARSA counterparts, where we can share best practises and dialogue more effectively on how we can provide better services for the student body. Furthermore I envision a Sanggu that does not compete with org projects. Org projects should be encouraged, supported and most especially Sanggu must work with these organizations. We will support the creation of new organizations through the League of Independent Organisations (LIONS).

We also realize that there are student groups who are service oriented. Groups such as Orsem and Aegis to name a few are also crucial to student life. We believe greater cooperation with these groups is essential to the development of students. We will make sure that these groups have full access to the systems of Sanggu. Furthermore, we will use our seats in the different Admin councils to make sure that the concerns of these groups are addressed both for the short and long term.

We realize that the growing student dorm population is growing. We will work with the administration and our ARSA counterparts to explore the idea of expanding facilities in the dormitories but moreover move to create more Ateneo-run dormitories. We use our seats in the various administrative councils to work to expand school facilities.

Engaging actively and consistently in local and national issues

As Ateneans, we have a responsibility not only to ourselves but also to the nation. Student politics in the Ateneo sadly lags behind those in other universities, therefore political parties must be given relevance beyond the annual electoral process. We will invite the different parties to a committee that will regularly and actively discuss the different issues confronting the Ateneo. Home-grown student movements, such as Ateneans for RH, show that students are capable of self-organisation and sensitive to national issues. Therefore, together with the Finance Officer and the Secretary-General, we will find ways to give these student movements greater financial and logistical support, remembering that the right to assembly must be encouraged and protected at all costs.

Ateneo was once a centre for student activism, and we must retake our place in history at the forefront of national debate. Of top priority in our administration is Sanggu participation in external political organisations, playing a leadership role in the formation and coordination of these coalitions. In line with this expanded leadership role, we will organise the advocates of different national issues into Political Action Committees that will lead the education of Ateneans on social issues, and creating spaces for engagement. Furthermore, they will aid the Sanggu in its legislative agenda and focus the Central Board's efforts to aiding the advancement of our nation's rights and welfare. The campaign for good governance only begins with the election of our chosen candidates, thus I will push that ATF 2013 continue after the midterm elections. It will shift to educate students on the different actions of the elected officials, and them accountable to their campaign promises.

Advancing the Interest of Students.

On-campus facilities can no longer accommodate the growing student population, with increased vehicular traffic as another symptom. Thus, we will initiate dialogue with the OAS and the Administration on how we can all find means to effectively manage our existing facilities. We will lobby the administration to simplify and ease the processes of the different school offices. We must encourage students to maximize their rights as students and have full access to school facilities.

We will work with the administration to provide more student inputs regarding the long-term plan of facilities development in school. Students must be given more say regarding the future of the University and its facilities. We will work and lobby for more seats in the different admin councils to make sure the students, who are one of the one's most affected by these changes, be at the center of admin policy.

Making Sanggu services more accessible

We lastly want to make the Sanggu more accessible. I envision as Sanggu that gives more financial services. Working with the Finance Officer, the financial grant system should be the cornerstone of Sanggu services. We will expand the financial grant to include more students and their initiatives, Furthermore we will regularly update the progress of the financial grant. I will also initiate standardisation of rates for printing and photocopying subsidies given to all Dean Listers. We must recognise and encourage academic excellence in our school not only in words but also through material support.

Sanggu must innovate and invest in better communications with students. We will standardise all Sanggu communication systems and integrate new media into all proceedings. A universal database shall be created to answer the more frequent enquiries of students and allow for quicker responses.

PLATFORM

KICKSTART YOUR SANGGUNIAN!

In the last few years, the Sanggunian has experienced a significant disconnect from its constituents, the very people whom they are representing, and the block and course representatives, who connect the top officers with the constituents on the local level. In effect, the major decisions and actions are made mostly by the top officers, and the remaining members of the student body are not engaged. Because of this, the Sanggunian has gained its reputation of being irrelevant.

I believe that the Sanggunian needs to return to the core: reconnecting with the student body and the block and course representatives. By engaging more people in the functions and projects of the Sanggunian, we will be able to bridge the disconnect and maximize the potential of the Sanggunian to fulfill its primary purpose, which is to serve its constituency in the best possible way. If elected as Vice President, I will work with each and every one of you so that together, we can kickstart our Sanggunian!

SPECIFIC POINTS

Let's build a relationship founded on dialogue between the Sanggunian and its constituents.

Context: Sanggu wants to achieve efficiency, completeness, and transparency in everything that it does.

Problem: Generally, only the top officers know what's really happening in Sanggu. Decisions can happen with little or no consultation. The information provided by Sanggu is complete but not summarized into a form that students would actually think of reading.

Solutions:

- We must promote a culture of dialogue. We can work with the Department of Public Relations (DPR) to make continuous short updates about Sanggu that ask for student reactions.
- I will see to it that students become informed of the different things that Sanggu can offer them through the DPR. Sanggu has so much potential: it can lobby to the school administration for changes, help students with problems regarding their student life, and so much more. However, these services are irrelevant if they are not made more accessible to the student body.
- I will supervise the expansion of the Ateneo Student Concerns Center (ASCC) such that it becomes the interactive center of the Sanggunian. It should receive student feedback and suggestions about Sanggunian plans and projects and relay this information to the corresponding people in charge. Moreover, when it receives student concerns, it should immediately be able to respond so as to resolve the issues at hand as quickly as possible.

Let's talk about issues that matter.

Context: The Central Board (CB) gets a lot of attention, sometimes even media coverage, when it creates statements and stands representing the whole student body, so these documents are often created as quickly as possible. In effect, the value of consultation is traded off for the value of timeliness.

Problem: The discussions stop with the CB and do not reach the student body for most issues. Considering that CB represents all LS students when making these statements and stands, it's only right that the students have a bigger say in this process.

Solutions:

- I will get a team to create infographics about the issues being handled by Sanggu. Students may not be aware of the details of the different issues discussed by the CB, so I want to create infographics to help them get enough background information to initiate discussions.
- Students will be encouraged to react to and have discussions about the issues tackled by the CB through the planned expansion of the ASCC. The ASCC will also ask for suggestions about what important issues and topics the students think that the CB should be discussing.
- I plan to encourage greater student involvement by inviting interested students to participate in the creation of these stands and statements. They can either help the CB Representatives research and craft these documents or go to the CB meetings to share their opinions and positions, which will add more perspectives on the issues.

Let's change the way that the Sanggunian makes projects and works with its representatives.

Context: Sanggu wants to implement its own projects and give Block/Course Representatives roles beyond information dissemination, so the Representatives are tasked to implement these projects.

Problem: Not all Representatives necessarily want to implement the projects that the Top Officers assigned to them. Many Representatives join Sanggu to represent their direct constituency, but they do not usually get to utilize this mandate, and instead, they simply become core members of project teams.

Solutions:

- We must promote the empowerment of the Representatives within the Sanggunian. Top Officers need to trust that the Representatives are committed enough to fulfill bigger roles and responsibilities.
- Specifically, I believe that the Representatives to exercise their mandate to represent through the House of Representatives, which I will help to further establish this year. Through this, Representatives can voice out their constituents' opinions and participate in vital discussions.
- I will push for Representatives to receive the opportunity to directly serve their constituents and get involved in Sanggunian affairs by making them members of the CB Committees and Sanggu Departments. This will also allow them to connect their School Boards to the different Sanggu groups.
- Furthermore, we should reassess how the Sanggunian chooses and evaluates projects. We must ensure that these projects are really what the constituents want and need through strengthening and strictly implementing the Department of Internal Affairs Project Management System.
- I will also work with the School Boards to open up more opportunities for the whole student body to get involved in Sanggu projects. Sanggu should increase tie-ups with organizations and give interested students a chance to take on leadership and core positions in its different projects.

Let's all get involved in shaping our student government.

Context: Two years ago, the CB wanted to swiftly amend the 2005 Sanggunian Constitution.

Problem: Only the CB was involved in the amendment process, and the plebiscite did not push through, so the Constitution was not amended.

Solutions:

- I will push to reopen the Constitutional Convention. Its meetings must be held during activity hour and in open spaces to make it more accessible to students.
- Organization presidents, political party heads, and other sector heads will be invited to join or to send a representative during the Constitutional Convention so that more people can get involved.
- The ASCC will provide briefly summarized updates on the current amendments being discussed, encourage students to propose necessary constitutional changes, and show how each CB Representative voted on each amendment to promote accountability.

Ultimately, I want to provide avenues for the students and representatives to reconnect with Sanggu, but I cannot do it alone. I ask for your support to share this vision with me and make Sanggu the student government that you deserve. Vote Ryan Yu for VP, and together, let's kickstart our Sanggunian!

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: Secretary-General
Full Name: Antonio Rafael N. Elicaño
Name on Ballot: AJ Elicaño

PLATFORM

“Sanggu is irrelevant, Sanggu is out-of-touch, Sanggu is too distant.” Candidates make statements like this every year, and yet, so little changes. Then they promise that they will change this, that they will bring Sanggu back to you, that they will be different, and yet again, so little changes. It’s time to face facts. The gulf between Sanggu and you, the people we represent, is an issue of systems, structures, and culture, things that cannot be changed by any number of officers—at least not alone.

This is why I’m running as Secretary-General, Sanggu’s chief administrative officer. I want to help create an inclusive Sanggu, one that reaches out to, informs, and empowers every Atenean. I pledge to work for a Sanggu that will ask hard questions and make difficult changes, because you deserve better than a student council that plays it safe. I ask you, a fellow Atenean who wishes that for once that our student government were worth it, to D.A.R.E. with me—to think outside the box, to tear down walls and build bridges, to work together towards a Sanggu that will be different because it will, for once, be yours.

Democratize Access. Sanggu has access to so many resources, offices, and volumes of information, all relevant to students, and yet, it doesn’t organize it well or make it available enough. It’s time to centralize archives and decentralize access, and get you, the students, in touch with what you need to know.

- More efficient information dissemination, working with the Sanggu Department of Public Relations, the secretariats of different orgs and councils, and your block and course reps in order to relay information through infographics, a central calendar of events, and summarized minutes.
- Create a Sanggu Wiki, as a reference and knowledge base for anyone looking for information regarding minor degree curricula, academic processes, accredited and unaccredited orgs, facilities and equipment procedures, services and contact numbers of various offices, and so on.
- Revive and institutionalize the Ateneo Student Concern Center as a hotline and avenue for helping students contact Sanggu to ask questions, relay concerns, and give feedback.

Advance Student Group Welfare. Student groups—accredited and independent orgs, athletic teams, and others like them—are vital parts of the community and the life of many Ateneans, and yet, they do not always get the support and resources they deserve. I envision a Sanggu that does not jostle for relevance with them, but uses its information, networks, and portals to work with them in service of the community.

- Open Sanggu’s resources and online portals to all organizations and athletic groups—push for more tie-up projects between Sanggu and orgs, use online channels to promote activities of orgs and athletic teams, better promote the financial grant system for student groups.
- Institutionalize the League of Independent Organizations (LIONS) as a sector of Sanggu, along with COA and ARSA, to better coordinate with and support these independent organizations.
- Coordinate joint policy-making and lobbying efforts with organizations, athletic teams, and other student groups for matters such as stand-making on social and national issues, administrative and financial issues, and organization rights and welfare.

Revamp Systems and Structures. Sanggu is a very top-down institution; the “Top 54” are kept involved in discussions, while block and course reps become mere relays of information. Pushing for flatter, more open structures will give Sanggu greater capacity to deal with issues while empowering those closest to you to be heard and to work directly on the issues that matter to you.

- Work for a more inclusive Central Board—empower the Central Board Committees to recruit volunteers and work on issues autonomously, publicize agenda to the student body, strictly monitor agenda-setting to ensure that issues taken up are relevant to the whole student body and give priority to the platforms of your representatives.
- Empower block and course reps through reestablishing the House of Representatives, giving them the right to propose and vote on policies and stands, and including them in the Central Board Committees to let them directly work on policies relevant to their constituents.
- Facilitate an open, participative revision of the Sanggu constitution—allow foreign citizens to run for office in Sanggu, institutionalize the House of Representatives to give it legitimate power and mandate, and provide an avenue to allow batches without an elected Central Board Representative to appoint an officer-in-charge with voting power to represent them.

Empower Participation. Communication with Sanggu tends to be very one-way—we ask you to give us your opinions about issues, and we disseminate information to you in return. I want to work for a Sanggu that transforms that model, moving past simple consultation and dissemination into dialogue and collaboration, working hand-in-hand with the student body to discuss and act on issues together.

- Expand avenues for students and groups to directly give feedback and propose agenda points such as policies, stands, and projects to their Sanggu officers.
- Push for crowdsourcing of Sanggu’s decisions and stands—revamp policy-making processes to ensure that stands, statements, and resolutions are drafted with more thorough discussion and direct input from the student body.
- Promote multipartisan spaces for discussion about and action on social issues—neutral online groups for discussion and sharing of information about issues, student-run bipartisan task forces to help Sanggu research and mobilize, issue-based projects in cooperation with organizations.

The word “dare” can mean different things—it can be having the courage to do something, or actually going out there and taking the risk. But a dare is also a covenant, a challenge made to someone else, asking them to do something incredible, like take a leap of faith, or believe that the student government can be worth it. And it’s often easier to decline, to throw our hands up in surrender and say simply that some things cannot be done, rather than trying something crazy and risking failure.

But after four years of that resignation, I am sick of the words “can’t be done” and “just the way it is,” because you deserve better. And so, for the year to come, I dare every Atenean to do something crazy with me, to dare the Sanggunian to be different. D.A.R.E. to include and reach out, D.A.R.E. to dialogue and make some noise, D.A.R.E. to move forward and make a change together as one Ateneo community.

PLATFORM

A Sanggunian that enables its constituency. A Sanggunian that is efficient. A Sanggunian that empowers its constituency and practices transparency. This is how I envision the direction of the Sanggunian's Finance Office when duly elected.

A Sanggunian that enables through strengthened quality services.

The Sanggunian is our student government. Its function is to provide services to its constituency. Services that are not half-baked, not well thought of. The Sanggunian should be able to provide quality services that address the needs of the students. These services should also challenge our minds and should catalyze growth, development and formation amongst us.

With the resources that the Sanggunian has access to and the efforts existing, the Finance Office of Sanggunian, under my leadership, promises an Expanded Subsidy System. The said Subsidy System will encompass categories on Research and Thesis, Conferences and Special Projects, mimicking the already existing system. However the same, the system I envision includes the institution of the Photocopy and Print Subsidies for Dean's Listers. A service designed to give incentive to those who excel academically and to challenge the rest of us to do more, academically. The DL subsidies, which used to be available for SOSS students only, was later on adopted by the SOSE and SOM Sanggunian. Now, we are bringing this service to all the students of the Loyola Schools who excel academically. True to the Atenean value of cura personalis, this service will be needs-specific depending on the nature of her/his academic load.

A Sanggunian that is Efficient.

This is not new. Efficiency has always been one of the things that the Sanggunian hopes to be. The Sanggunian Finance Office, under my leadership, also aspires for the same thing, efficiency. First on this list is the Reduction of Budget Hearings. Strategically scheduled at the beginning of each semester, that is, summer, the first and second, this change aims to develop foresight amongst our officers. This will also encourage the practice of careful and strategic planning when it comes to projects and initiatives.

Second on this list is the SAF study. In collaboration with the Council of Organizations of the Ateneo and the Sanggunian's Department of Research and Statistics, the Sanggunian Finance Office would like to know which activities are of YOUR interest. This study is designed to filter the existing and proposed projects and initiatives, classifying which ones are of higher priority and relevance to the students. This data will help project based units such as the school boards and organizations, who can now help each other out in executing parallel and overlapping efforts or at the very least, share best practices and the like, to prioritize which projects to execute first. Furthermore, the SAF study will ensure efficient use of YOUR SAF.

Decentralizing the DCB account is the last in this list. In this effort, each of the school boards, respecting their autonomy, will have their own DCB account. This will ensure that the school boards practice efficient use of what budget they have in their account. Optimizing every peso for them to disburse. Doing away with expenditures that may be unnecessary.

A Sanggunian that empowers its constituency.

The Sanggunian exists because of its constituency and so it is only right that the constituency be given enough opportunities to voice out their concerns, YOUR concerns. When elected as YOUR Finance Officer, my seat in the Loyola Schools' Budget Committee shall be YOUR seat. My voice in that committee will echo YOUR voice. The facilities and services, offered by the school, that needs improvement or replacement will be lobbied for. This plan goes hand in hand with the Block and Course Representatives Training I have in mind. This training hopes to equip YOUR representatives the skills and knowledge to actively represent your needs concerning with facilities and services.

A Sanggunian that practices transparency.

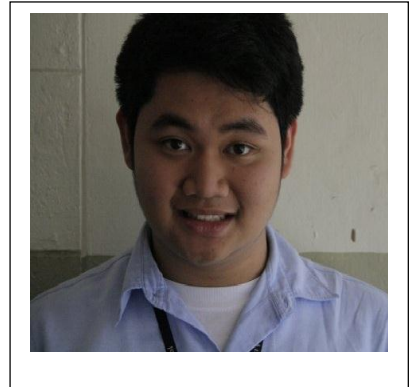

Just as with efficiency, the concept of transparency has been one of the things that Sanggunian has consistently hoped to be. And just as with efficiency, I also envision for the Sanggunian Finance Office to be transparent just the same. With respect to the fullest essence of the votes casted, it is only right for the Finance Office to let YOU know how things are, financially. How YOUR SAF is spent, disbursed, should be of your knowledge. Having said so, infographics and monthly financial reports shall be posted online and physically on web portals the Sanggunian Board along the EDSA walk. All transactions and necessary forms involved (i.e., receipts, etc.) will be made available online for public viewing. As a good practice of transparency, budget hearings will be well promoted, inviting each and every one of you to join in the discussion whether YOUR Sanggunian should financially support projects and initiatives.

YOU will be the focus of my agenda when seated as your finance officer. All my actions and decisions will be FOR you and ESPECIALLY for you. For an ENABLING, EFFICIENT, EMPOWERING and TRANSPARENT Sanggunian. Vote Tin Andujare for YOUR Finance Officer.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: SOH Chairperson
Full Name: Redentor John R. Dimla
Name on Ballot: RJ Dimla

PLATFORM

This platform aims to further more improve the branding and the status-quo within the School of Humanities through creating significant projects that are designed specifically for SOH via integrating the SOH orgs, the home departments, and the school board.

Development and Formation

“SOH lang ako, hanggang creatives lang ang kaya ko.”

A good number of SOH students often reject offers to step up whether it is in Sanggu or in the SOH orgs. I believe that the talent and the skills are present; SOH majors are really creative and are critical thinkers, but as of now, it is all potential energy. In SOH, we are being formed to become renaissance men and women and therefore it is a must to learn how to apply the creativity that SOH majors possess not just in orgs and in Sanggu, but also in their lives outside the University and in their future careers. The School Board will make sure that the constituents will be challenged by creating more opportunities where they can be immersed with work that can hopefully turn that potential energy into kinetic energy. SOH is in need of workshops that are designed for the nature of our school. This can be achieved through constant tie-ups with the different offices in the Loyola Schools. We must take advantage of the services that are being offered by the school instead of competing against them.

Project Management 101: Proj Mgt 101 is a talk that was done for my batch and was a tie-up between the School Board and the OSA wherein SOH majors from my batch and members of SOH orgs were invited to attend. Next year, I want to make it bigger and hold multiple sessions to ensure maximum impact.

Spiel: The School of Humanities is a school of diverse passion, hence the interdisciplinary approach of our programs. The courses being offered in SOH are diverse enough to lead you to almost any career path provided the right skill of marketing one's self. Spiel is an upcoming project for my batch, a tie-up with the APO, where SOH sophomores will be taught on how to market themselves to employers when looking for an internship. It is a workshop designed specifically for SOH students. If elected as Chairperson, I plan to expand this project and make it SOH-wide.

Mentor-Mentee System: Through their Department of Human Resources, JGSOM's school board started this system wherein rookie members of the school board are assigned to a veteran Sanggunian member and pass on his/her knowledge to the rookie member. I noticed that it was a very effective system for their school board to the point that they do not have to negotiate with someone just to head a project; people had the initiative to step-up and apply. I dream of a SOH school board that is just as empowered as JGSOM's, therefore I will adopt this system and apply it in our school board next year.

Integration

SOH is said to be the less politicized and less politically active sector in the University; people tend to become more active in their orgs instead. Because of this, the orgs have the advantage of knowing our constituents better than the School Board. I would like to take advantage of this situation and streamline the SOH orgs, home departments and the school board, thus turning these three sectors into one board. Through this, redundancy of projects can be avoided, and at the same time, communication between the three major sectors of SOH can be made easier and more efficient. The new structure of the school board will aid the Sanggunian in catering to their SOH constituents adequately at the same time collaborating to entice more SOH majors to be active in SOH-related activities.

Kapihan: The school boards are obliged to conduct plenary sessions wherein the whole school board update each other, making sure that everyone is still on board at the same time. Kapihan, on the other hand, would be similar to the plenary sessions, but this time, SOH orgs, department arms and heads, and even the Dean on occasion, will be invited to join. I firmly believe that the Kapihan Sessions will help us create that solid network where the school board, orgs, and departments will work together to be more efficient and to make our presence felt not just to the SOH students, but to the whole LS community.

La Solidaridad: Throughout history, there have been events wherein art and literature influenced the turnout of political events. La Solidaridad, a propaganda led by the greatest Filipino writers, artists, and thinkers at that time, created the news paper to expose the harsh realities of the Spanish colonization. In relation to this, La Solidaridad will be an attempt to politicize the School of humanities through creating stands that involve petitions that is very similar to what Moses Albiento did when he released the Ateneans for RH stand; the school board will release a statement wherein the SOH students can sign and get recognition as one of the people fighting for a certain cause. It will also be an opportunity for our constituents to know more about current local and national issues.

Continuity

We can never achieve our goal if we always start all over again. The last two chairs already started creating our dream structure of the school board where the orgs and department chairs are integrated with the School Board through constant tie-ups and the school board now releasing political statements. Next year, I pledge to be more hands-on to ensure our progress in reestablishing SOH's branding.

PLATFORM

What I want to do as the Secretary Treasurer of the School of Humanities is to develop a good relationship between the SOH Sanggunian and the SOH Students through constant communication with block representatives and course representatives, the academic departments, and home organizations; as well as to support them in their student activities.

My dream for SOH students is for them to live a satisfying life with jobs that pay them well and make use of the skills and talents that they learned and honed through the courses that they picked during their stay in the university. To have such a life, one must have opportunities. To get opportunities, one must get exposes. Exposure starts with class projects, block projects, personal projects (such as thesis), and organization activities. That is what the students of the School of Humanities need: exposure and support. I want to reach out to the students and hear them out. I will not propose projects for them. I will listen to what they have to say and what they want to do, and I will help them make it happen. What I want to do when it comes to project planning is to begin the planning at least two weeks to a month before budgets are due in order to identify what needs to be spent on and how much money needs to be spent. This is to avoid unnecessary spending and also to make use of what is left for other possible projects. All the money goes to something by the students and for the students.

I am also going to provide subsidies for photocopying readings, especially for Literature and Philosophy majors because of the huge amounts of pages that they have to copy and read for their classes.

Last, I will promote transparency with the budgets given to the students and minutes taken during meetings. This is to allow the SOH Sanggunian to receive comments and evaluations not just from the members of the Sanggunian, but also from the students of the School of Humanities. By doing this, students will know what is being done with the money that their families spent for their tuition fees, and so that they can bring up concerns regarding the Sanggunian so that we can address them, reevaluate and reassess ourselves for the better of the School of Humanities.

1) EFFICIENT DISSEMINATION OF INFORMATION

A brief overview of a class' curriculum should be given and easily viewed through a student manual so that students may be more aware of the classes they are enlisting for. This could also help prevent panic enlisting on AISIS. Availability of Sanggunian information (such as budgets and the minutes for all meetings) must be released to help promote transparency and awareness among students.

2) STUDENT PLATFORM TO VOICE OUT CONCERNS

Students must be given more opportunities to respectfully voice out concerns related to faculty, facilities, classes, and courses (such as shifting, double majoring, and minoring). I will build relationships with other Sophomore officers to be able to hear my batch's inquiries and problems in order to serve the batch better. By giving students more chances to give feedback, I hope to help promote batch unity and lessen apathy towards the student government and the concerns of the batch.

3) SUPPORT FOR SOH ORGANIZATIONS

Briefing for students that are eligible to become officers of SOH organizations must be made available and more efficient so that those who are qualified and willing to run may know more about the available positions and how they can better contribute to their respective organizations.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: SOH 2 Executive Officer
Full Name: Catherina Maria Luisa G. Dario
Name on Ballot: Cathy Dario

PLATFORM

Having gone through my freshman year in the Ateneo, experienced the duties of a block representative, and org member and gotten to know many of my SOH batchmates, I have discerned what my batchmates need and expect from an Executive Officer and the Sanggunian as a whole. That being said, I have three major platforms that I plan to undertake if and when I am elected as Executive Officer:

1.) Information and Networking

- Sophomore General Assembly: In my experience as a Block Representative, I found out that a lot of my blockmates are interested in minoring, double majoring and adjusting their IPS. Although the student manual is readily available, I noticed that a lot of my friends inside and outside of my block were unaware of many academic services, school events and Sanggu projects. By holding this GA at the start of the school year, I will be able to not only assess the needs and wants of my batchmates, but I will also be able to circulate information that everybody needs to be aware of.
- Bi-Weekly Meetings with my Block Representatives: As an Executive Officer, I understand that it will be my duty to keep constantly updated with the concerns and needs of my batchmates. Therefore, I will be having meetings every two weeks with my block representatives in order to facilitate wanted projects, assess and address academic concerns and report to my Central Board Representative the concerns and needs of my batchmates.
- Transparency of Sanggunian Information: I want my batchmates to be aware of what's going on in the student government, as it's been a problem that a lot of people do not feel Sanggu's presence. Hence, I will be disseminating to my batchmates the minutes of my meetings with my block representatives

2.) Unity and Opportunity

SOH students are passionate and artistic. By sophomore year, my batchmates and I will be taking our majors. I want my batchmates to hone their talents and their craft in a stress-free environment, outside of their classrooms. Hence, I will be launching CREATE – The SOHphomore Creative Series.

- What is CREATE?
CREATE is a series of events and activities for and by the SOH sophomores spread out through the school year. It has the following objectives: (1) To develop the passions and interests of my batchmates and (2) To promote unity among the SOH sophomores.
- Projects include (but are not limited to):
 - A. Batch Open Mic – SOH students enjoy performing – singing, dancing, acting, and reciting poetry. I want to hold a Batch Open Mic so that everybody can come together to enjoy the place that they all love: the stage.
 - B. Workshops (At least 1 per course) – In my experience as block representative, I noticed that my Creative Writing blockmates were also interested in visual and theatre arts. I will invite guest artists and writers to facilitate workshops open to anybody in my SOH batch.

- C. Though the Fine Arts curriculum has workshops, I plan to do this because (1) non-FA SOH courses like Philosophy and Humanities should also get the opportunity to hone their creative skills (2) I want my batchmates to enjoy a workshop without any pressure of being graded or closely watched by a professor,
- D. Creative Talk (At least 1) – This year, I became part of Heights Ateneo's English Staff. My orgmates and I had the opportunity to plan and attend creative talks, such as discussions on art and literature facilitated by professionals, such as renowned poet Ms. Mookie Katigbak-Lacuesta. I want my batchmates to be exposed to these as well, so that they can be guided by experts inside and outside of the Ateneo.
- Outside of CREATE, I also plan to be in contact with SOH-based organizations, such as Artillery and Writerskill. I want my batchmates to be aware of their events and projects, so that they can actively participate in these.

3.) Participation and Involvement

Every year, students complain that they do not feel the presence of the Sanggunian and they feel very detached from the student government. Having been a student leader when I was in high school, I noticed that having my teammates and orgmates actively participate and contribute to my projects encouraged them to work hard and bond with one another. Hence, I will do the following:

- Establish committees for batch projects – In line with CREATE, I want to give my batchmates the opportunity to help plan their own events. My block representatives will serve as committee heads for these projects (for example: Logistics Head, Communications Head, etc). I will allow my batchmates to sign up as committee members. To facilitate this, I will be asking for regular progress reports from my block representatives.
- Support for eligible Sanggu officers – Many blocks do not have block representatives, and many are hesitant in joining the Sanggunian. At the end of the year, I want to brief interested batchmates on the roles and duties of block representatives, executive officers and the like. It is my job to create change, and I want my batchmates to feel that they, too, can do that as well.

PLATFORM

1. Better Systems to help facilitate discourse between Sanggu and the SOH Independent Ogs

The School of Humanities, at its simplest, is a diverse school full of individuals that have greatly varying passions. This manifests in their active participation in varying organizations, home orgs or otherwise. One thing to note about SOH, though, is that most of its constituents' home-orgs are independent.

I think this is often too overlooked. With proper attention to these SOH Home Organizations, we find ourselves what could possibly be a viable alternative/complement [edit: proper word?] to block and course representation. Through establishing proper means of discourse between the top officers of these Home Orgs, Sanggu will not only be able to make sure it is aware of organizational concerns, but this can also serve as a step towards making its constituency more aware.

2. Concretetizing Systems: LIONS

With regards to my first point, one way to establish more open and functional means of communication between Sanggu and the Humanities Home Organizations is through the reinvigoration of LIONS, or the League of Independent Organizations.

Through LIONS, or the League of Independent Organizations, not only will a two-way exchange of ideas and concerns between Sanggu and the SOH Home Orgs be promoted, but more importantly, such discussions will be facilitated, pushing forward not just clarity but efficiency as well.

3. Beyond Bureaucracy: making the implemented Systems viable to the non-Sanggu person

All the systems stated above, and even the ones already being implemented by Sanggu, all depend on the subscription of the person. Right now, the relationship between Sanggu and the common Atenean is that the latter often does not see the former as something viable because it does not understand how it works, or what it's working for.

For the Atenean to partake of the Systems being upheld by Sanggu, these systems must then be made viable, given a face so that the feel of alienation present when it comes to the technicalities and formalities lessens, if not entirely dissipate. By breaking the bureaucratic wall of systems that shield the common Atenean from the inner workings of Sanggu itself, I think a two-way discourse between the two sides will be much more sustainable.

Continuity and Productivity

1. Continuity

- More projects and events are encouraged, as well as more tie-ups with organizations. An example of project would be Project Management Seminar (tie-up with OSA) for Organization Presidents or Project Heads. Since junior year is a heavy year, OJT's would be made accessible and open to all students in their respective fields of interest. Internships to influential companies would be available to interested juniors.
- Talks on CV composition would take place to prepare the juniors for senior year's career fairs.
- Series of career talks (tie-up with Ateneo Placement Office) concerning different sectors and fields will also be organized so as to make the undergraduates aware of their possible future jobs.
- The next SOH Week or Arete 2014 would showcase the works of the creative SOH students by having them participate in various activities and events.
- The networks between the SOH Sanggunian and the different departments and offices in the Ateneo will still be kept intact. Moreover, established connections to new departments will be aimed for them to help out in organizing better and relevant programs for SOH.

2. Productivity

- Assignments of heading an event or program would be passed and distributed to SOH Course and Block Representatives such that they will be more familiar and exposed with how the school government works.
- Collaborations with their organizations will be pushed in order for them to be more active, productive, amused and innovative. They will serve as a bridge between the SOH Sanggunian and their organizations so a sense of responsibility will inspire them to keep on serving the Ateneo community.

1.) Unified SOH

What I hope to do as the SOH Central Board Representative is to create a more unified SOH Seniors batch. The Senior year is a very difficult time for the Atenean. It is a time when graduation is just around the corner. It is a goal that we all want to achieve. A more unified SOH will bring about the Ignatian Ideal of Magis. I also believe that this would lessen the burden of being a Senior in the Ateneo; to graduate together than alone so to speak.

I intend to do this by encouraging more interaction between each of the Humanities courses. As the the SOH Central Board Representative, I would do this by spreading information (with the help of my course representatives) and get them to join more workshops and the like.

Short-term Goals: More interaction between the Humanities courses.

Long-term Goals: a Unified SOH Seniors Batch.

2.) Communication between the SOH Seniors Batch and the Sanggunian

One problem, I feel, that must be addressed is this feeling of being a SOH major and the stereotype that comes along with it. What I would do to address this is to have more communication between the Sanggunian and the SOH community (specifically the Seniors). As the SOH Central Board Representative, I will fill the role of the middle man for better communication between the two while at the same time urge the SOH community to become more united.

Short-term Goals: To abolish the SOH stereotype with the help of Sanggunian and build a bridge of communication; preferably by or before the School Year 2013-2014 begins

Long term Goals: Slowly bring a stable communication between the Sanggunian and the SOH seniors and to hopefully set an example for the batches to come.

PLATFORM

General Direction / Thrust, 2013-2014

Inwardly, the SOM School Board will reinforce its systems in catering directly to student needs on a day-to-day basis, and strengthen quality management and monitoring systems for service, project, and events organization. Day-to-day operations require day-to-day maintenance and monitoring to ensure the quality and consistency of the services offered, and so systems to serve this purpose shall be set into place.

Outwardly, the SOM School Board will prioritize expanding and optimizing the roster of basic services being offered to students. The SOM School Board will accomplish this by better assessing the needs of students through consultation at strategic points of the year, allowing us to understand the areas of student life in which we should focus our efforts on. The internal management functions of the SOM School Board will ensure that these services are executed in a way that makes them accessible and easy for students to use.

Basic Services

In 2013-2014, the SOM School Board will refocus its efforts on Basic Services, initiating a Constituent Needs Assessment Survey over the course of the summer semester, to launch services that specifically target the needs of our constituents during the first semester. The assessment survey will be conducted again towards the end of the first semester, in order to better plan services and projects for the second semester.

Measures

- Increased Constituent Awareness of our Basic Services, measured by patronage of the services offered
- 90% Satisfaction Rating from Evaluation Surveys of our basic services
- 85% Satisfaction of Needs based on Year-Start Needs Assessment and Year-End Evaluations

Methods

- Grounding of Projects and Services on actual needs* of the students.
- Regular Monitoring and Evaluation of projects and services being executed, to be conducted by the Sanggunian Department of Research and Statistics (DRS).
- Mandatory Monthly Plenaries to assess progress and adjust planning accordingly.

SOM

 This data will be gathered from surveys and consultation with student units.*

Representation

The SOM School Board will establish a regular line of communication between each block, and each course. Weekly Updates from the School Board will be disseminated to each demographic group, whether via online social media, or via text, and the next day, responses and concerns will be gathered from each group. Consultations will also be conducted via this line of communication.

Measures

- 90% Constituent Response Levels during Consultations
- 85% of Concerns resulting in Resolution of those forwarded from Constituents
- 100% School Board Representative Utilization in Dissemination

Methods

- Monthly Consultations specifically targeted toward student units affected by specific services.
- The SOM Bulletin. Weekly information packages shall be delivered to each unit by their representatives, via text (summarized form) and other social media platforms. Emergency Bulletins will still be released when necessary.

Student Movement Integration

The SOM School Board will make National Affairs relevant to its constituents, by means of increasing channels by which SOM students can learn about and participate in events of national importance. The School Board will continue to inform their constituents of School-Wide events, but establish a regularity to information dissemination, and establish stronger ties with information sources among the administration to better inform the students of the School of Management.

Measures

- 85% Unit Representation in School-wide Events
- Increased Constituent Interest in National Affairs
- SOM Representation in National Affairs Events

Methods

- Inclusion of links to National Affairs articles in the SOM Bulletin disseminated via social media platforms.
- Invitations to Events on National Affairs exclusive to SOM Students
- Provision of Incentives for attendance in School-wide Events

Administration

Over the past few years, I've found that organization, order, and a systematic process is key for successful projects and the like. With that being said, this year I plan to find ways to ensure the proper implementation of protocol within the JGSOM school board.

- Project Management System
 - o Strict monitoring of projects through a new PMS, which entails a uniform format and a constantly updated online document that will also be viewable by the public. The format will entail tasks to be done, persons in charge, materials needed, budget needed, and proper calendaring of tasks.
- General Manual
 - o A lot of people struggle with things such as room reservations, facilities concerns, academic concerns, etc. With that in mind I plan to release a manual that contains information and infographs regarding the basic steps on how to reserve rooms, as well as who to contact for specific concerns.

Representation

- New department for CB alignment
 - o In our School Board, we have 3 internal departments namely Human Resources, Corporate Relations, and Department for Communications. This year, I would like to add one more internal department, which will focus on dealing with Central Board matters. This department will take charge of the distribution of representatives among the different central board committees as well as facilitate the formulation of the JGSOM stand regarding current issues.

Transparency

One of my main goals this year is to increase the awareness of the constituents regarding the projects, events, and the initiatives of JGSOM. I also find it important that students are able to access our files so they have the opportunity to know how we function internally and to promote transparency.

SOM

- Files Database
 - Release an official files database that will include all the budgets, project proposals, minutes of the meetings so students can be aware of the internal procedures their school board goes through for their initiatives
- Watchtower
 - Utilize the Watchtower website to streamline all the projects, events, announcements, and other initiatives of JGSOM as well as show what each of the representatives have been doing. Included here is an updated calendar of all JGSOM activities.
- JGSOMA
 - Hold a JGSOM address per semester to update our constituents on what their officers have accomplished as well as open the floor for comments and suggestions.
- Weekly JGSOM Bulletin
 - This weekly JGSOM bulletin will be released every Sunday night and will give the JGSOM students an idea on the events happening within the week as well as a summary of the outcome of the previous week.

PLATFORM

General Work Principle

As an aspirant Central Board Representative, I have always believed in its vital role as the connection between the students and the Central Board. If by any means I will be elected as a SOM 2 CB Rep, I will try my best to be straightforward in representing the general voice or status quo of the students. Thus, this will be my common denominator in every duty I will do if given the chance to be involved in the CB. In order to execute this plan properly, open lines of communication between the students and the CB reps is a must. This can only be done if representatives elected by the students will be really open to their constituents and here comes in my duty to motivate each working officer of the SOM 2nd year board to work for a common goal and that is to entertain and be open to inquiries and suggestions of students.

Redefining the Block/Course Representatives' Duty

In the past few months of my stay here in the Ateneo, I have observed the idleness of the duties of Block Representatives. I believe that Block Reps should be more than just a mere consultative body of the Sanggunian and so with this, one of my specific agenda for the year to come is the advancement of a redefinition of the duties of Block/Course Representatives and for a possible outcome of constitutional revision. If this will be successful, we expect a more diverse representation inside the Sanggunian and thus leading to more conflicts of interests, one of the many factors that can make the political environment inside our University healthier. The outcome can be likely patterned to the current bicameral proceedings of the country having an Upper House and a Lower House of Representatives.

Strict Adherence to Time Management

As one of the highest educational institutions in the Philippines, I believe that it then serves a role in breeding the next set of leaders for our country. However, this cannot be realized if only the simple problems cannot be resolved—thus the time management in our student organizations. What I have observed in attending different student-run events is their lack of devotion to their time. Events/projects always start 15-30 minutes later than the expected time. From this, one of the strict policies I can implement in the CB Board is the strict adherence of student organizations to the schedule of time they plan for their projects or events through a set of concrete rules and sanctions.

Student Involvement Conditioning

Student involvement in different academic or purpose-based events for the past school year has really been disappointing. In order for a student government to fully realize or bring out the potential of their constituents, they must see to it that students consistently participate in their projects or initiatives. In our school's environment, that's not the case. Students have been really indifferent towards activities that can enrich the academic atmosphere in the university. Analyzing the different trends of projects being executed here in our school, I have observed that student involvement can be seen at its maximum potential during parties or school-wide external celebrations. This is a form of training that we must not tolerate as it only conditions our constituents to participate ONLY in this type of events. Thus, I plan of proposing policies that regulate or limit "parties/celebrations" sponsored by different student organizations and motivate them more instead to go back to purpose-based relevant activities that truly give the identity of any council.

A More Approachable Image

It is not the Sanggu's intention but people tend to put the block reps, EO's, CB's, and other members on a pedestal. Though this admiration of sort fosters respect towards Sanggu members, this also creates distance between the leaders and the people they serve. People tend to get intimidated and shy away from expressing their concerns. Another case is that people just become indifferent towards the Sanggu. They've deemed Sanggu unreliable and this has also created distance. These being said, I believe in projects that will make the Sanggu body seem more approachable in the eyes of the students, the people we serve. Such a project would be "Contact your CB Directly" where anyone could express his or her concerns quickly and directly to the CB. I also intend to meet with the block reps bi-weekly.

Projects such as this will streamline the communication process between the Admin, Sanggu, and the Student Body. These will make addressing individual concerns more efficient and more effective and thus embodying cura personalis.

Represent Everyone

The voice of the majority is the one easiest to be heard. Their concerns are quickly addressed since they make the authorities aware easily. But how about the concerns of the minorities? Often projects are made to cater to the common or the average student. This description however, does not apply a significant number of the student populace. A lot of student concerns aren't being addressed because they do not really apply to the majority. Some cry but aren't heard while most just give up expressing their concerns altogether. A represented community not only caters to the majority but also does its best to respond to everyone.

Together with my EO, projects catering to those who aren't your "average students" will be created: projects that will be inclusive but not at all condescending to those financially challenged, ones that allow students from different provinces to share their cultures with their peers based here in the metro, systems that allow the voices of introverts to be heard and the like. Through being more sensitive to the concerns of the minorities, the distance between them and the rest of the student body will be minimized and the community will be represented better.

Social Awareness, Responsibility through Simple Actions

We as individuals are not only part of the Ateneo community but are also members of society. This being said, we have the obligation to be aware of the challenges the world is not facing and be able to act accordingly if we have the capacity to.

Students however tend to be socially ignorant because they are too engrossed in their student lives. I believe that the best way to keep the student body socially active is through simple, non-tedious actions. Simple things as, wearing a certain color to express your stand, spreading posts of facebook or hashtags on twitter, starting a catchphrase or trends, simple everyday things. These may be small actions individually but will have an apparent impact collectively. Furthermore, these simple things that everyone can do will make it easier to see what the general stand of the student body really is. For example just imagine the entire school wearing a certain color in order to show support for a cause. Things like these will be more efficient and may be just as effective as making students fill up long boring surveys. These actions will also form a sense of unity within the community. These will make a student feel a sense of belonging in the community and will foster familiarity between the community members. The goal is to unify the community in certain causes beyond that of mere UAAP basketball games. If simple basketball games can unite us why can't things that matter more do the same?

Together with my EO, these projects will bring the men and women for others inside the members of the student community. Not only will they be active citizens individually, but they would be part of a bigger and much stronger force in society.

PLATFORM

In constructing my platform, I decided to keep everything simple and straight to the point. I don't have an acronym for my key points, but rather, I have symbols. Also, instead of writing paragraphs to explain my key points, I used bullet points for easier understanding and to make things concise and more absorbable.

Transparency & Communication

- Clear communication between the Admin, Sanggu, and the Student Body through strengthening venues for concerns and announcements (e.g. Twitter, FB Batch Page, Ask.fm, Watchtower, and the block reps themselves) and making collective FAQs regarding various concerns.
- Transparent Sanggu and School Board through JGSOM Forum, Weekly batch plenaries and sit-ins, AND through the venues mentioned in Communication.

Block Rep & Constituent Empowerment

- Molding reps to be better based on evaluations of block mates, to unite the block, and to be independent and capable to address block needs (through the Planning Seminar and quizzes).
- Letting block reps head projects, while letting constituents join and help in the projects.
- Strengthening the block and the voice of the constituents (through communication).

Individual Needs

- ASL strongly believes in cura personalis. We care for the individual.
- Therefore, aside from basic services, other projects and services I intend to make real depend on what the batch needs and wants, of course, addressing needs before wants. These will be determined through proper communication and the block reps.
- For example, if many constituents deem Accounting difficult and they want a tutorial service, then we will make it happen.

Social Awareness & Involvement

- As ASL, we believe in being men-for-others. It is no hidden fact that our country has many problems.
- With the help of my CB, I want most, if not all, of my constituents to care and be more aware on the different social issues and events happening in our country.
- Having at least one project that tackles one of the many issues our country has (ex: education, environment, etc.) to be decided on together with the elected Sophomore Executive Board. (The nature of this project may vary from raising funds to planting trees to even immersing)

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: SOM 3 Central Board Representative
Full Name: Luis Miguel D. de Jesus
Name on Ballot: Maki de Jesus

PLATFORM

Life here at the university provides the perfect opportunity for us to continue molding ourselves to be the men and women we want to be. One can opt to exert their efforts on lesser pursuits, but one can also choose to be a significant part of the impetus behind the Atenean culture of excellence.

I, Luis Miguel de Jesus, seek the position of Central Board Representative for Academic Year/ School Year 2013-2014.

HONEST REPRESENTATION

The University is not merely an institution, more importantly it is a living, breathing community comprising of students each with their own remarkable ideas that need to be heard. As CB, it is my goal to encourage and engage the students into a more active participation and better awareness of the issues that surround them. I believe that it is only with active participation that student empowerment can truly be achieved.

True empowerment comes from knowing one's rights. Our Magna Carta therefore should be literally an "open book" and not a dusty piece of literature. I highly recommend the "re-opening" of the Magna Carta to aid and support the students in the various issues they need to be addressed.

Student empowerment, as a result, allows for a better representation of the issues that need to be resolved and/or matters that may need to be improved on. An honest representation is almost half the job done.

If elected, the batch has a clear, distinct, honest and sympathetic voice to the Sanggunian. It is a voice that will echo your concerns, it is a voice that has been shaped by you.

BACK TO BASICS

Basic student requirements such as longer library hours, better safety procedures and tricycle fares has been pushed aside for greater and grandiose plans. But I believe in being concrete and practical, and in keeping with my stand on Honest Representation, simple issues such as these should be given sufficient attention by the Sanggunian. A back-to-basics plan is included in my agenda to bring to the forefront issues that may have been deemed insignificant to some but important to many.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

We may “stand on a hill,” but that does not mean we should never come down. Our sense of community should not end at our own school. When elected as CB and joining the Committee on Formation Services and with direct links to the Office of Social Concern and Involvement, it is my objective that we, the student population, Filipinos too, should reach out to the bigger community that is our country. The School of Management is a good place to plant what I call “the seeds of awareness” by becoming socially-aware entrepreneurs whose love for country is an integral part of their business-making decisions.

Many consider university life as a time for finding oneself, but I would have it to rephrase that a bit with the help of one of my all-time hard-core Rock Star, Mahatma Gandhi, “The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others.” + amdg

Position Aspiring for: SOM 3 Executive Officer

Full Name: John Paul C. Racines

Name on Ballot: Peepoy Racines

PLATFORM

Hi I'm Peepoy Racines a II BS Management student currently running for SOM's 3rd year executive officer. Why should you vote for me? I have a vision for our batch that we would be able to provide the basic needs my batch needs also for my batch to have connections with the mentors they will have while they are still staying at Ateneo and lastly is to integrate students' skills with what they can apply in the real world. There are 3 major projects that I would like to execute; first is the internship fair, where companies would be available in campus to offer internships to the juniors, because juniors are having a hard time of looking for companies that are offering internships and this project would be a basic need for them. Second is having a grand consultation for students with respective SOM professors. Why this? Because students are scared of approaching our professors so this grand consultation would be great opportunity to students to consult and ask recommendations for their professors. As most of us now that our professors are not our enemies they are our friend. And my third major project is the School Bazaar where student will be having booths that will make them apply all the skills and knowledge they learned from the classes they have. This is will be integrating students with their fellow batch mates to practice and apply their skills and knowledge into reality. This would be a great project for them especially when their classes need them to sell their products and to make them think how it is to be in a competitive world. Therefore I am running as your executive officer to offer basic services, student movement integration and to represent you.

PLATFORM

B.E.S.T CHANCE for a BETTER STUDENT LIFE

Better Representation: Active Participation of Constituents in National, Social and School Issues

- As ASL is focused in student-centeredness, I want to be a better representative of the opinions of my constituents. I will train and require course representative to speak about issues discussed in central board meetings in front of classes which consists mainly of their constituents. This will make the constituents more aware of what happens in the Central Board other than uploaded minutes. It also provides an avenue for dialogue between the course representatives and their constituents, if the constituents have opinions regarding the issues.

Educating Course Representative: Forming Course Representatives Other Than Their Executive Duties

- I will educate course representatives regarding the proper procedures in various frequently asked questions and situations for them to serve their constituents better. Before the year starts, they will be better informed of their role as a course representative other than executive duties.

Service: Improvement of School Services

- I will propose and implement during my term a more efficient way of photocopying. I will present a scheme that segregates lines in photocopying places and allows students to have an easier time in photocopying their readings.

Ties: Connecting with Other Sectors of the Sanggunian / COA

- I will form better ties with the elected Finance Officer during my term so subsidies for capitals in SOMBA and other business start-ups can be done easier and be more accessible.
- I will not hesitate to tie-up with other organizations or the like to better serve the needs of my constituents

PLATFORM

Empowerment Through Connections

I will focus on the course representatives and their closeness as to create a culture of family and love within the batch. The relationships and connections between the course representatives will serve as some sort of microcosm to how they will be able to reach their constituents. So if the representatives aren't even familiar with their colleagues, how will they be able to be familiar with their constituents and their needs. If the representatives can't approach the colleagues they don't know, then how will they be able to approach and communicate with their constituents. Also once the course representatives create a familial culture within themselves, this connection would empower them to work more and be more in love with Sanggu. This love for Sanggu in turn would urge them to be better leaders and make them more visible to their constituents. I also plan to get the representatives more involved by giving them more responsibility and by making them more involved in the decisions and issues that Sanggu will be facing. This would make them feel that they are not taken for granted and would make them feel that they are needed and appreciated in the school board. One thing that would also make this easier to achieve is to fix the system of meetings among the representatives by conducting fixed biweekly meetings to ensure more updated and involved course representatives.

In line with creating empowered people through connections, I also plan to work closely with the Loyola Schools Office of Placement to make sure that the SOM seniors are given an edge in when looking for job opportunities. I plan to do this by conducting various seminars and talks. To be more specific, I would organize a resume building seminar for the seniors to be able to maximize each character and that they'll put in their resume. It will not only give them a good set of tips and tricks, but it will also help them increase the chance of getting their desired job. Other than this, I would like to be able to organize a set of simulated job and business interviews for the senior with the help of LSOP. Also since most of the talks and networking sessions are done in the 2nd semester, I would also like to be able to have a few in the first semester as to give the seniors a better set of connections, opportunities and contacts. Other than these, I have noticed that the career oriented talks have been divided into segments, although this is a great idea, it would be great to give the seniors a networking night where representatives from advertising, marketing, advertising, IT, communications companies are present. Lastly in line with tie ups with LSOP and the career directed plans is to give the seniors a wider range of companies to apply to. I would like to include more companies and organizations that not only cater to the corporate and the business side. With this in mind, I also want to make the typical Job fair go on for an entire week rather than just 3 days as to give the seniors more opportunities to create the much needed connections.

SOM

A project that I would like to continue is the Dean's List photocopy subsidy. I would also like to give the batch some sort of batch paraphernalia as with what we had back in our freshman year as SOM students. I would like to have a SOM centric graduation/ seniors shirt. Together with this I would like to propose a grad party for the seniors to make sure that they can create more connections with their batchmates before their college lives officially ends.

Aside from this, I plan to create a bazaar database that would pool contacts from different bazaars, events and the like. This is to further give the seniors that will be having their own businesses an easier time looking for opportunities to sell. Besides this, I will also push in asking discounts for them from the bazaar organizers.

PLATFORM

I have personally witnessed the potential of the Sanggunian. Despite recurring problems such as reconnecting with the student body, it has been able to accomplish so much. The Sanggu would always push to change itself time and time again to address the needs of its constituents, while setting up numerous projects and composing stands here and there for various social issues. However, despite this immense potential, I believe that my school, the School of Science and Engineering, has not been able to fully capitalize on this and has, in fact, lost a lot of momentum in the past year.

That is why I want to run as the chairperson of my school. I wish to bring SOSE back up because it holds the potential to initiate or even create change both in and out of the Ateneo community. Furthermore, with its students ranging from diverse fields, SOSE has the capability to take part in tackling various social and political issues that are relevant to their specialties.

However, to be able to tap into that, I believe the SOSE School Board should work towards reconnecting itself to its constituents and becoming more relevant through the following:

Academic Relevance

It's common knowledge that SOSE students are very academically oriented. All of us work tediously in different fields and some of us even engage in research for a cause despite being taxing both physically and financially. In this common struggle, I am sure that any help will go a long way, thus I will ensure that the Dean's Listers' subsidies are brought back and continue the Sanggu Subsidy System.

Also, academics are not limited to the lessons we are currently taking nor the content presented in our course syllabi. They include anything that can deepen our knowledge in our specializations. I propose to organize seminars wherein professionals from different scientific disciplines may share their knowledge, opinions, and discoveries to students. The topics do not have to be directly related to a course; it is to promote a healthy sense of awareness of what is currently happening in the development of science in our world. I also hope to communicate with organizations that hold similar seminars, which will not only provide more opportunities for these kinds of event, but will also open a more open relationship with these organizations.

Internal Reconstruction

The officers of the previous term aimed to raise the performance standards of the school board, but unfortunately, some officers pulled out and others grew inactive. This left the school board with much less manpower than it expected to have and it may also affect the potential of the school board for this coming term. In order to provide to the needs of its constituents, the school board must have people who are willing to work as an integral part of it.

Thus, I want to rebuild the internals of the school board by empowering the representatives. There are three departments in the school: Corporate Relations, Human Relations, and Documentations and Publications. I want to have at least one representative from each year level to be part of these departments. This will not only provide opportunities to representatives to enrich their stay in Sanggu, but it would hopefully provide a local source for representatives to turn to in need of help.

Pride in SOSE

The whole SOSE community generally lacks pride, not pride in our own courses, but pride as the School of Science and Engineering itself. I believe that if SOSE-wide pride would be instilled within its students, then we will begin to recognize ourselves as students capable of engaging in various social issues as a whole school. The students are unified in their own courses, but nobody can deny the influence of a whole school especially when dealing with issues related to our strengths.

And there is so much to be truly proud for in SOSE. It can be said about the students of SOSE is that they are always in a constant struggle with their academics. It is hard to truly love a course that deals with hard sciences, but for some reason, we are able to pull through and even bring ourselves to participate in several co-curricular activities. All SOSE students have gone through difficult times through these hard sciences, but it has proven that we can survive the SOSE life. And if they can apply their knowledge into various social efforts, then that is truly living out what I believe being a SOSE student means.

SOSE in the Big Picture

As I pointed out before, I want to aim SOSE towards the school being socially aware of social issues, especially those that are scientific. I believe that SOSE is the most capable community in responding to these types of issues.

ANECON, which happened earlier this year, is a clear example of how this can be accomplished. It is a project to promote a cause, and many more similar projects can be done by the SOSE School Board, albeit in smaller scales, but the scale is irrelevant if it means engaging the SOSE community.

I am not a master of all the disciplines of science, but the whole SOSE community consists of students taking up so many fields of science. That is why I plan to provide the opportunity for SOSE students to address scientific and socially relevant issues on their own initiative. They send us their project proposals for a certain cause, and if they are both well prepared and very relevant, then we will provide them with the resources needed to put that project into action.

I believe that the students of SOSE are capable of accomplishing such things. That is why I want to run for SOSE Chairperson. I want to bring out the best of my school through the place where SOSE truly shines: Science (and Engineering).

Approachable and reliable. For me these are the foundations of what the SOSE Sanggu should have so that the student body will be more aware of what is happening around them not just academics wise. In the long run, these can lead to having a unified SOSE despite of the very diverse courses present.

I am Kellyn Ngo, and I am running as your SOSE Secretary-Treasurer. Here I am standing before you and making a BET with all of you.

B- Better Communication System

WHY: This is the first step to an approachable and reliable SOSE Sanggu. If there is no efficient communication between the SOSE Sanggu and the student body, then we would not be able to serve you properly.

HOW: 1. Updates will be made online since it is the easiest way to disseminate information. Such updates will be made in such a way they will catch your attention. The Department of Documentations and Communications would be in charge of these creative updates.

2. For me to reach out to the student body more directly, I plan to use social media for suggestions of projects since it is the most convenient way to communicate.

3. To have a personal connection with the constituents, a database of contacts for each course/ block rep will be made with their respective constituents. This is just to have a better information dissemination and project implementation.

E- Empowerment of the block/ course rep and the whole student body.

WHY: Through empowerment, the student body will be made more aware of the presence of the SOSE Sanggu.

HOW: 1. Through the suggestions in social media accounts, the SOSE Sanggu can have an idea as to what the student body wants therefore, we can talk and plan about these projects during plenaries and plevsems that would benefit both the Sanggu and student body.

2. To further empower the SOSE student body, I would want to have monthly "Did you know facts?" regarding student rights with a touch of science so that the SOSE student body would be more aware of their rights as students.

3. To encourage SOSE students to do their best in their academics, subsidies like the Sanggu Subsidy System and Dean's Lister subsidies would be distributed efficiently.

T- Transparency

WHY: Since we are elected officers, the people who elected us have the right to know what is going on inside Sanggu.

SOSE

HOW: 1. Minutes and attendance of plenaries, meeting and execom meetings will be posted online and on the SOSE Sanggu board along EDSA walk, infographics can also be made so that these will be easier to read thus making the SOSE student body more informed.

2. To have a reliable SOSE Sanggu, approved budget proposals would be easily accessible to the SOSE student body so that they will have an idea where the funds go to.

With these three step agenda, I hope that you are also willing to make an all in BET with me so that we can have a better SOSE Sanggu for you.

PLATFORM

As a former Block Representative of the Sanggunian ng mga Paaralang Loyola ng Ateneo de Manila, I have learned to be more socially aware and active in issues which are relevant not only to us students of the Ateneo, but to the entire nation as well. The Sanggunian has helped me become a better and more effective student leader within my block. Because of this, I am willing to step up and be part of something greater, by serving not only my block, but the entire SOSE batch as well by running for Central Board Representative.

For the upcoming school year, I have 4 main goals that I would like to achieve, along with the Executive Officer and Block Representatives. The following are: Student Concerns, Environmental Awareness, Social Awareness, and Career Orientation.

Student Concerns

Many students in the Ateneo are not able to voice out their concerns effectively. As a Central Board Representative, it is my duty to be able to represent the entire SOSE batch and to be able to maintain liaison to my constituents and the Central Board.

In order to address this issue, I plan to set up a "mini-board" in each block to be able to effectively find a solution to their concerns as students of the Ateneo. Each Block Representative can hold weekly meetings or even polls in their respective group pages in Facebook to know what issue exactly needs to be paid attention to. The Block Representatives will then present these arising issues to the Executive Officer and I, and we will act accordingly to these brought up issues. To make the SOSE batch more empowered and involved, I will ensure that each block is well represented in meetings, and that each block has a say in certain issues concerning their course, school, etc.

Environmental Awareness

Right now, pollution is a very prevalent issue not only in the Philippines but also globally. As students of SOSE, it is our responsibility to be active in taking care of the environment. I plan to organize events such as tree planting activities, environmental talks and awareness programs, and yearlong projects such as a Paper Drive as this would help lessen the amount of waste generated per day. I also plan on coordinating with other organizations in the Ateneo, such as BOx, etc., who have projects aiming to help save the environment. Recycling and reusing is also one important factor that can help save the environment. Environmental campaigns (posters, tarpaulins, signs, online posters, etc.) can be spread throughout the different SOSE blocks (through the Block Representatives) and throughout the entire school to serve as a reminder that we, indeed, need to preserve our environment.

Social Awareness

SOSE

Most students in the Ateneo are not socially aware of the different issues revolving around them. In line with this, I plan to coordinate with each Block Representative to come up with weekly updates within their own blocks (utilization of the block groups in Facebook) in order to keep the student body informed as much as possible. Also, I plan to organize talks and seminars about different social issues, as these can be an eye-opener for most students. As these can help them become more aware of their surroundings, it would be better if students themselves were socially active. With this in mind, I plan to organize outreach programs or projects that would raise funds for different beneficiaries. These can help students be more involved in the community and may influence them to do more for the public as well.

Career Orientation

As a sophomore, many of us are concerned with our courses and career paths -- of whether or not they made the right choice, of whether or not the course that they currently are part of, is where their heart is and if SOSE is the school that they actually belong to. With this issue in mind, I, along with the help of the Executive Officer and Block Representatives, plan to organize seminars wherein different people from different companies talk (preferably SOSE graduates) about their experiences and realizations to help us students make better choices when it comes to our future careers. Also, these seminars aim to give students an overview of the jobs and companies that they can apply to (in relation to their courses) in the nearby future.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: SOSE 2 Executive Officer
Full Name: Melisse Andreana D. Yutuc
Name on Ballot: Mel Yutuc

PLATFORM

As my batch's first executive officer, I have learned that to lead is to take initiative, to prioritize well, to put your 110% forward, to take up new challenges and to have a good sense of batch unity. With serving 553 people the past year, the experiences and lessons I gathered from the Sanggunian aided me as I took the risk of starting the first ever freshmen project S.O.A.R., as we constantly informed and updated my batch through our facebook group, and as we raised funds by selling SOSE Batch 2016/17 shirts. I grew even more passionate with the set of block reps that I held meetings with weekly and the batch I tried my best uniting under one school which is SOSE. With that said, I am ever more willing to still serve my batch as, once again, their Executive Officer.

For the upcoming school year, I have 2 main goals that I would like to achieve, along with the Central Board Representative and Block Representatives. The following are: Student Concerns and Career Orientation. I also plan to continue S.O.A.R. as a batch team building tradition.

Student Concerns

Borrow For Zero

As SOSE students, books are one of the primary needs when it comes to learning. Books for calculus, chemistry, physics etc. have always been in-demand for SOSE students. Due to the fairly high cost of books, I plan to collaborate with the rest of SOSE's Executive Officers with a "Borrow For Zero" forum or SOSE group.

There my batchmates, as well as the other batches may post and inquire for books that upperclassmen may have. As a result, SOSE students can borrow books from each other without having to buy the books they needed for their class.

SOSE Batch 2016/17 Group

The Central Board Representative, Block Representatives and I also plan to continue updating the SOSE batch group with the latest news regarding social and environmental issues. Issues being talked about in the Central Board will also continue to be relayed here as well reminders from the Loyola Schools, reminders and other important announcements.

The batch will be able to relay their concerns through this group regarding issues, topic etc.

SOSE

Career Orientation

Drive For Five

Courses such as B.S. Management Information Systems- M.S. Computer Science, B.S.-M.S. Computer Science, B.S.-M.S. Chemistry etc. requires 5 years of study in order to get a masters degree. There have been a good number of students who have considered shifting to a shorter or much easier course.

I plan to hold a career talk for these specific courses which will be called "Drive For Five". In the orientations, the students will be given a more positive and realistic view of their career paths and eventually, may have a more optimistic outlook on their 5-year courses.

Team Building Tradition

S.O.A.R.

Last January 11, we held the pioneer freshmen batch project. I plan to make this a tradition. Given that it was a successful, well-evaluated and fun event for my batch mates, the Central Board Representative, Block Representatives and I will execute yet another fun-filled Amazing Race: Outbreak event with the goals of batch unity, team building and camaraderie.

Skills:

I am most comfortable working around a group of students aiming towards one goal. I am a well rounded individual and properly formed in Ignatian values to make morally upright decisions. I am disciplined and pride myself in being able to effectively weigh things and make the proper decision in dire situations. I am very open-minded to anything and everything. I encourage those around me to work with the group and speak their minds.

Interests:

I've been learning guitar for 8 years now so I believe I'm pretty skilled with playing the instrument. I used to play team basketball for Ateneo back in grade school and high school so I know the dynamics of working with a team. I love collecting sneakers as a hobby. I also love meeting new people and making new friends as I always look forward to the opportunity of working with them.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: SOSE 3 Central Board Representative

Full Name: Luis Miguel N. Del Rosario

Name on Ballot: Luigi Del Rosario

PLATFORM

With the heavy workload on our hands, the common notion for the SOSE Student is that the Sanggunian is irrelevant to us. I, too, have admittedly at times been turned off by the idea of student-politics and social awareness especially knowing I have much more to worry about with my academics. However, the call to serve is what drives me to want to work harder and it is this same call that explains why I am determined to fight for the Sanggunian. Yes, all the workload we have as SOSE Students is extremely difficult. Being a SOSE student is arguably the most difficult experience a student of the Ateneo De Manila University can ever undergo. THAT, in itself, I believe is the SOSE Pride. We pride ourselves in being able to withstand the battle against the workload we have, knowing the payoff is huge for our future. The battle is a continuous war, but the Sanggunian will be there WITH you. I am determined to restore our batch's faith in the Sanggunian simply because together, we CAN.

Communication

- Gone are the days where there would be a major disparity between being an elected rep and an appointed rep. Elected or appointed, a representative is entrusted 1) to put the welfare of their course mates ahead of everything else and 2) to know what is best and make decisions that will put into mind the common good of their course. That being said, every voice will be heard and every concern will be raised. Through the formation of a House of Representatives, which I pledge to help push for in the central board, ALL representatives will have an ACTIVE ROLE in decision making. Channels of communication will be improved which will lead to a MORE EMPOWERED Sanggunian.
- The SOSE student tends to be immersed in their respective fields. This immersion usually entails being active in their home organizations, and eat-sleep-breathing their academics 24/7. This immersion leaves the SOSE student with little to no place for the Sanggunian in their heart. The Sanggunian is the ultimate network a student can have for connections to organizations, administration, etc. With that in mind I entice the Sanggunian to the SOSE student, not necessarily for the politics, but for being a window of opportunity. The Sanggunian provides opportunities for SOSE students looking to venture out of their comfort zones. I aim to present and make those opportunities known to the students. Through proper information dissemination these opportunities are made known to the SOSE student. Projects that may not necessarily be given by curriculum or organizations (especially those that involve the off campus setting) will be properly and efficiently made known to the students.

Academics

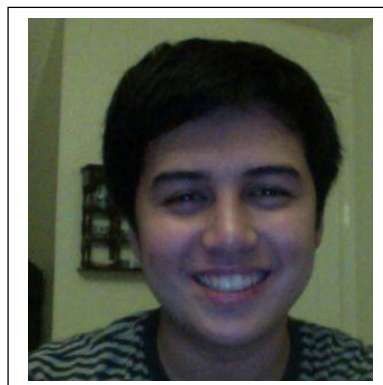

- The common academic concerns of SOSE students include being frustrated with core subjects that they didn't really sign up for. These concerns are what commonly lead to the SOSE student thinking about shifting out of their course despite really wanting to be in that course. I pledge to form partnerships with organizations in order to address academic concerns. Through creating tie-ups with these organizations, especially the home orgs, the academic concerns of students may be addressed through assistance programs such as tutorials, review sessions, mock exams, and the like. I envision a program similar to the AECES CATS Program which aims to help freshmen with their Math 18.

Nexus

- A noun, which means "the middle". The student, first and foremost, is the reason why the Sanggunian is even here in the first place. The Sanggunian is by the students, FOR the students. It is about time the Sanggunian makes itself AMONG the students. The Think Tank, similar to the concept of a council, encourages participation from the SOSE Student Body. These students will be included in batch wide meetings with course representatives and will be adding a new dimension to these meetings. These students are called to not only give unique individual perspectives but to also assist the Sanggunian especially with proper information dissemination. In order to get the student body talking and hyped up, something needs to be groundbreaking and innovative. The Think Tank will do and be just that. Each and every Atenean concern will be given an EQUAL VOICE to make a MORE RELEVANT Sanggunian.

Interests: I take pleasure in sports, football/soccer in particular. I also enjoy music, sitcoms, and cars.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: SOSE 3 Executive Officer

Full Name: Gabriel A. Tangco

Name on Ballot: Gab Tangco

PLATFORM

As an aspiring Executive Officer, I am mandated by the constitution to create and oversee projects for the betterment of the welfare of my constituents. I believe that above all, these projects should be backed by the three principles, namely friendship/camaraderie, continuity, and preparedness, especially in the context of the future or pursuing one's ambitions once they've graduated, and finally stepped out of college or university.

Friendship/Camaraderie

In order to become a good leader, one must be in touch and in good terms with his/her constituents. Consequently, it has become a habit of mine to befriend everybody in a group that I belong to, be it a group for an academic requirement, an org, a sports team, or what not, but in this case, the SOSE school board. I plan to do this by promoting an amiable vibe despite the gravity of the supposed issues at hand during school board meetings with the course representatives as well as the other members of the SOSE school board.

As for our constituents, I plan to continue the SOSE Sportsfest which has been running for two years now. I have headed this event for two years straight, and I am proud to say that the success of this event over the two years has increased substantially. The SOSE Sportsfest aims to disprove the stereotype of science and engineering majors as "nerds" or geeks". Team sports are also one of the best ways to generate new friendships, build on old ones and truly foster a sense of camaraderie between equals. In the same light, the recently developed SOSE Cybersportsfest brings together those from the less physically active division of the SOSE population to form teams once again, but this time in the

Many of the needs of SOSE majors are fulfilled by their respective home organizations. Due to this, a lot of project ideas are found to be redundant and overlapping with projects and initiatives of other orgs. In line with that, I plan to make sure that those projects that were found to indeed accomplish its purpose are become successful such as the aforementioned sportsfests, the SOSE quiz bee, the ANECON, and many more, do indeed continue to become a tradition throughout the coming year.

Preparedness

As an incoming junior, the end of college or university for my batch is quickly approaching, and the pressure of choosing and getting a job begins to become a reality and a pressing issue. Many people may end up disoriented and not knowing what field of work they want to enter. This is something that we all would want to avoid as much as possible. In response to this issue, I plan to create career discernment talks especially for the departments whose career paths may still take numerous different directions.

PLATFORM

In my three years of stay in Ateneo, I have seen the challenge of the Sanggunian to reconnect with the student body. It has been a problem to make the students care and take part in what the Sanggunian believes in and what they offer. Although some of these efforts have in some way already been felt by the students, there still seemingly lacks participation from their end.

Apart from this, it has also been an issue as to where to go after college, most especially from the students of my school, the School of Social Sciences. Talking to students in SOSS made me realize how heavy and taxing our academic load can get; and yet, we are not given enough assurance that we are going to land a good job and settle in a career that we will be most satisfied in. The confidence has seldom been given, and the concern still lingers for most of us: "Where will my course get me? What will I do after all this?"

These are two of the biggest problems that I have encountered and witnessed through time. And for these concerns, I have realized the need to initiate change and finally make it materialize. In realizing this, my aim is to make the SOSS students mark, not just in Ateneo, but also in their life after college. It is about making the SOSS students see the essence of the studies that they are engaged in; that what they do is significant to everyday life, and the track that they have chosen will lead them somewhere remarkable after graduation. And what better way to do this than to serve you, my fellow SOSS students, as your chairperson and make you and our very home, SOSS, matter.

There are three large points that I would like to work on if you give me the chance to be your SOSS Chairperson:

1. MAXIMIZE

SOSS has always been known for the diversity of courses that it offers. For this, we can consider ourselves as "international": Moving in different cultures and languages that each of our colleagues can only get to understand. It is, then, recognition to showcase these practices that we are immersed in to our fellow SOSS students, and even to our fellow Ateneans. Our colorful shades-- the activities we do and the lessons that we study-- are worth being proud of; and it is in this effort that I would like to allow you, SOSS students, to be able to show our fellow Ateneans what it means to be part of our respective courses, and what it means to be part of the School of Social Sciences.

- SMORGASBORD (The SOSS Course Fest): During SOSS week, block and course representatives, will present projects and activities which will center on the idea of the courses that they are part of. In here, they can highlight their expertise in their respective fields in fun, relatable, and creative ways that students will definitely enjoy.
- CAREER WAVES: It is a series of talks and forums presenting organizations, companies, and firms that admit SOSS students and fully acknowledge the skills and experience that their courses have trained them and exposed them to. This will include providing opportunities for the students to apply for a job, and for the undergraduates, a position for internship. This will be possible through the possible help of Loyola Schools Placement Office and the Council of the Organizations of Ateneo.

- THE SOSS BLACKBOARD: It is the massive utilization of social media in informing the SOSS students of the recent updates on the activities of the SOSS School Board. Inspired by the SOM SB's dissemination of information, the SOSS SB will also provide a website where the updates will be posted and where the block and course representatives can open, edit, and update themselves.

2. MOBILIZE

As students involved in the study of the social sciences, it is indispensable to involve ourselves in the current events and issues that our country faces. Given that we are the School of Social Sciences, the movement of making our fellow Ateneans aware and active in the political and social front relies on us. Once elected as your SOSS chairperson, I will formulate and regulate programs in which our school can voice out its issues and concerns, and be models of our fellow Ateneans that we should be informed and be part of what surrounds our daily life.

- THE DISCOURSE: The sessions engaging students in what goes on in the news, and giving them say on where they stand in these issues. With what is produced from these sessions, the SB will announce and will subsequently synthesize to result to a declaration on what the SOSS student body stands for.
- SOSS CONGRESS: Instead of having plenaries at the end of each semester, the students will be given the chance to address their concerns through the help of their block and course representatives, which in turn will be provided with their own power to "legislate" in a conference where the SOSS Central Board and Executive Board officers will preside over. The block and course representatives will be given a chance to lobby these issues, and whatever will come out of the conference will be what the SOSS CB reps will address in their next CB meeting.

3. MOTIVATE

It is expected from us, Ateneans, to "go down from the hill"; and it in this principle, we are able to represent our purpose in making the most out of our Ateneo education. The goal is to be able to motivate: once elected as your chairperson, it is my duty to motivate you to act and immerse yourselves in the society that we live in, so that you, yourselves can motivate others to make a difference. In this task, comes the test of our being men-and-women-for-others, exercising once again our areas of expertise and practice in order to help those who are in need.

- BUKLAT, BOKASYON, BAYAD: A three-part social outreach program where students can get to interact with public grade school students and teach them given the school books that we shall donate ourselves (Buklat), and also train them on the ways of saving their allowance for future purposes (Bayad); and with public high school students on gaining confidence and leadership skills that they will be using in choosing their paths after their schooling (Bokasyon). This program will even be more strengthened through the possible help of the InAF program, most especially by the Office for Social Concern and Involvement.

Student Engagement

Many individuals in the Ateneo today have grown to become leaders in their respective organizations, other extra-curricular and the like. I want to further challenge these students and help them develop to achieve their maximum capacities in truly being men and women for others.

- House of Representatives – This aims to give block and course representatives a direct voice to the Sanggunian board and its issues. This will allow them to engage in the actual affairs that are discussed by the top officers rather than receiving information relayed to them by the Central Board members. This will also give them an opportunity to bring up concerns that are common to the student body.
- Ignatian Campaign - This will be a promotion of Ignatian values and concepts through an umbrella of projects. As Ateneans, we are formed to be men and women for others. However because of the impact heavily imposed by modernization, we forget to go back to our roots and exemplify the model we ought to be to others, to be leaders and promoters of social change so that we may give back to the community inside and outside our campus. Eg. Magis: Academic Aid, Lux in Domino: Tie-Up with the CMO, Men & Women for Others: Leadership program.
- Open House – This would provide a series of avenues to students that belong from different social groups (religious, political, and other minorities) who do not have sufficient resources in conducting these by themselves. This would encourage dialogue among communities and foster a culture in the SOSS community that is more open to the different advocacies each group would have.
- Jet Set – This is a service catered to each year level that would guide the students to which career path they would want to take. For the freshmen and sophomores there would be standardized manuals about each course and curriculum plus guiding steps for load revision, majoring and minoring. For the juniors, Hanep Buhay, a career program that includes talks and workshops for the various disciplines, will be continued. For the seniors, there would be workshops for resume writing, handling interviews, and the like to prepare them for job search and employment.

Politicization

Students have thus far, lived comfortably insulated from broader socio-political issues. I believe it is crucial for every Atenean, to go down from the hill and understand the context of the struggles of our countrymen. It is a world full of many other realities that is uncommon to our sight in the LS classrooms. Many issues are affecting the world today and I believe by immersing in them, we can learn more about the injustices that continue to affect the lives of our fellowmen. In doing so, we can be empowered to make a change even at the very least of letting the voices of our fellowmen be heard.

- Talks and Forums on Current Issues – Bi-monthly, to raise awareness there would be current issues that would be set on focus. We will invite various sectors who work on these said issues to further our knowledge as well as for us to come up with an intelligent action to help solve the issues faced by society.
- Exposure/Field Trips - Information is neither acquired solely on the four walls of an auditorium nor a classroom but also from the outside world. By setting these, this will ensure the Sanggunian and the LS student body to know, first-hand, the problems that our society is currently facing.

Structured Internals

In executing successful projects and services for the student body, systems must be first analyzed and internal structures must be organized to have a fully productive working School board. Efficiency in internals will aid in representing the students more accurately.

- Departments – Communication(promotions & information dissemination), Representative Formation (training & development, performance tracking), Marketing & Fund Raising, Projects & Services (event efficiency), Research & Statistics (consultation & evaluation)
- Enhance Central and Executive Board Integration - It must be essential that each branch of the Sanggunian will not just be relaying and dictating information to each other, but working together as it will not only lessen the time needed for instructions to be enacted but also it will foster a new culture of cooperation between each branch.
- Working closer with the Departments - As most interactions with the faculty outside class happen in the departments, working closer with the departments will not only lessen the distance between the students and the faculty but also create an atmosphere of genuine interest for the subject matter instead of intimidation, especially with the reputation that other faculty members have in campus
- Dialogue with campus offices to update the administration with student concerns and to relay new improvements made by the offices to the students.

A SOSS Sanggunian that focuses on STUDENT SERVICES.
Taking Simple Steps to a bright future for the School of Social Sciences.

A SOSS Sanggunian that focuses on STUDENT SERVICES.

The work of the Sanggunian should be relevant to the students because it is the student body who we answer to. What is it, then, that Sanggunian can give to the students when the Home Orgs already do great projects? Student services. I picture SOSS Sanggunian not only sustaining but also focusing energy on these services which give aid to the students of SOSS.

Simple Steps for SOSS

1. Create closer relationship with Department and Home Organizations through meetings to (1) align goals and (2) avoid overlapping projects within the first month of school of each semester
2. Cut down on unnecessary Sanggunian projects
3. Consultation with students to see which services are most needed by the constituents
4. Focus funds and energy on (1) Sanggu services, such as the grants and financial aids and (2) Home Organization projects.

A SOSS Sanggunian that executes EFFICIENT SPENDING AND INTERNAL PROCESSES

Sanggunian funds mostly (if not completely) come from the tuition of the students. On the other hand, Sanggunian decisions definitely affect the students. Because of this, it is the students' right to know what is happening within their Sanggunian. It is also their right to be able to have a say in these matters. Using regular announcements, the Sanggunian (with active participation from the Department of Communication) can keep the students updated and aware.

Simple Steps for SOSS

1. Continue open invitation SOSS Executive Committee meetings/plenaries
2. Release itinerary for plenaries at least 1 week in advance
3. Release budgets and minutes online for comments at least 3 days after they are drawn up by the Executive Committee

A SOSS Sanggunian that practices TRANSPARENCY WITH BUDGET AND MINUTES

Just like any organization, Sanggunian should apply streamline procedures that lead to better outcomes. As the student government, it is Sanggunian's responsibility towards the student body to be an efficiently oiled machine. To do this, budget deadlines must be set with allowance for proper planning to avoid unseen expenditures and give time to search for sponsors (with active participation from the Department of Corporate Relations). Another step would be to establish detailed procedures and structures (with active participation from the Department of Human Resources) in order to have organized communication and job execution.

Simple Steps for SOSS

1. Begin project planning at least 3 (1 week for team to make detailed plans, 2 weeks to draw budget) weeks before budget approval deadline
2. Create standardized and uniform forms (that include separate pages for budgets, team members, venues needed, and the like) before the semester begins
3. Create standardized job descriptions and checklists for core teams
4. Restructure school board. Assign (1) a secretariat representative per batch and project and (2) a treasurer representative per project

PLATFORM

The Christian Union for Socialist and Democratic Advancement has had a long history of groundbreaking legislation. Freedom of Academic Information, the Red Plate Act, as well as initiating Sanggunian involvement with the Anti-APECO Taskforce, and many other instances. As the 2nd Year School of Social Sciences Central Board Representative, I will advocate for a Sanggunian that is not only bridged with the students, but also the external problems down from our hill through these proposed pieces of legislation:

Enlistment Reform

- Enlistment is crucial to the life of the Atenean. Many students encounter problems with the AISIS, which is the online avenue where students enlist. In order to address these problems, I would use my mandate as a representative to the highest governing body of the Sanggunian to reformat AISIS. However, the reformatting that shall be done will be grounded on surveys to be physically conducted the semester before enlistment period and virtually immediately after the enlistment process on AISIS. This will ensure that my legislative agenda for enlistment reform shall be based on the students' sentiments and therefore reconfigured along their lines.

Academic Reform

- It is a common problem for students to have many issues with the house rules certain professors implement within their classes. These house rules are made with the discretion of the professor. To avoid negative incidents that may be rooted on the arbitrary nature of these rules and its implementations, I will legislate to have professors not only clarify their house rules at the start of semester, but also to have these subject to department approval.

Consultation and Information Dissemination Reform

SOSS

- In order for more concerns to be effectively addressed by the Sanggunian, we must create a systematized method of consultation and information dissemination between Block Representatives, the Executive Officer, and the Central Board Representative. Weekly, Block Reps should create reports to be sent to the EO and the CB Rep regarding block concerns on academic or socio-political concerns if any. Every two weeks, a general meeting among the CB Rep, the EO, and the Block Reps must be conducted. And after every month, the EO's must have their individual consultations with the Block Reps. This ensures that the concerns from the student body will be heard by the CB Rep and EO to be relayed to the Central and School Boards. This also guarantees that in any contentious issues that the Central Board Representative may encounter, the Block Reps will have the ability to place input and voice out opinions to be truly democratic.

Constitutional Reform

- It is stated in our constitution that the Central Board is given the mandate to review and amend the constitution every two years. This is a contentious aspect of our constitution, and next semester being a year for the Commission of Constitutional Review, I intend as 2nd Year SOSS CB Representative that constitutional changes be made in the provisions for amendments. The Sanggunian must embody democratic principles and thus the student body through its representatives must have the freedom to force an amendment. And to follow up with this amendment, the Sanggunian must institute the House of Representatives composed of all Block and Course Representatives in order to provide checks and balances for future constitutional amendments so that any provisions made will be given full mandate by the student population. These steps will ensure that constitutional crises will be averted in future instances and student sentiment at the grassroots level be truly included in policy and decision making aspects of the Sanggunian power structures.

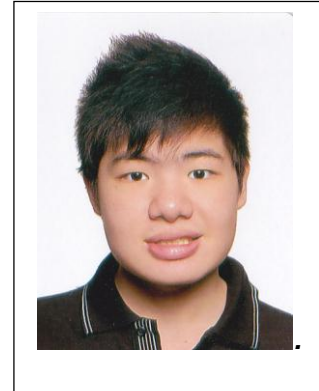

It is the time of reform in our school, and together we can take these steps to have a participative, efficient, and democratic Sanggunian. We need answers to the problems we are facing, we need plans for problems we will face, we need solutions of the short-term and the long-term.

I am Fil Garciano, your 2nd Year SOSS CB Representative.

PLATFORM

Throughout my entire freshman year in Ateneo, I have come to experience so many new things, so many new perspectives from the people I have met. Ours is a diverse school, students with different cultures, different stories and different talents, all coming together in one place to see what they can do with their lives. That is, after all, the main purpose of getting an education. As members of the Sanggunian, I believe that it is our jobs to get students there, to enable them to develop what they have in them so that when their time comes, they can do anything their mind sets them out to do. In the Ateneo, we often talk about the concept of Magis, to do more and to be more, and that is what I desire for the students of my batch, to be able to use their time here to develop the talents that make them special because one cannot simply go out there and change the world without first starting with themselves. I stand for transformative empowerment, which enables one to do more, be more.

To achieve this, I have prepared a few points that I'd like to emphasize and pursue during my term.

1. Network of Students

We need to create a more unified and connected SOSS through the social network. Aside from information dissemination, it can be a way for SOSS students to network and form relationships. There is a need to make sure that course and batch groups are updated regularly, with Sanggu officials being able to interact with and answer queries from students. This is something that has to be organized in a way that it becomes a policy for this type of student-representative interaction to take place as often as it can.

2. Personal Paths in Learning

We need to aid in the development of the dreams and future career paths of students. Partnering with orgs to create more career talks for interested sophomores is important because students need to be aware of what their chosen course is all about and where it could take them. Policies need to be enacted to ensure that it will be easier for orgs to secure funds and gain approval from Sanggu to organize events such as these. Another important task is releasing and promoting the different courses and minors, giving students the options that they might have not known about. To do this, it is important to fix and simplify the areas where this information should be readily available, like the Ateneo website so that all academic offerings are clearly shown to interested students.

3. Improving campus life

Pushing for more aids, subsidies, and even infrastructure is key to making the lives of students easier. We need to market Sanggu as a one-stop shop for access to student services. One thing I plan to pursue is to improve information design to help in promoting services and projects. This involves the posters (on-campus/online) used for promoting student services. As well as the use of proper branding for the 4 schools, in order for Sanggu to make its presence felt, we have to place these in our projects. Presence in social networking sites also has to be widened; there is a need to make the page more proactive and available to students by promoting the Sanggu's presence on the internet.

Interests:

I love singing, having joined singing contests and I'm also a stage actor for 3 years. I also love playing volleyball, having been in the varsity team before and I love socializing and meeting other people. I also love teaching and reach outs.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: SOSS 2 Executive Officer

Full Name: Brian Kelvin V. Pineda

Name on Ballot: Brian Pineda

PLATFORM

Governance is an essential feature of democracy. Schools begin the training process for governance through the formation of a student government which are manned by elected student leaders. The conduct of election ensures that the students' choice for their leaders emanates from them.

I, as an Executive Officer candidate, present the following beliefs and means to carry them out. If given the opportunity to serve, I, along with the Sanggunian and the constituents will "AIM" high. As an executive officer, I will do this in 3 steps, to Assimilate and integrate, to provide Informative services and to Maximize.

1. ASSIMILATION AND INTEGRATION

We have reached the period wherein there should be an equal opportunity for everyone to actively participate. This is why I am committed to build a strong network in order to strengthen the voice of each student in Ateneo, making them more involved. This goes beyond simply disseminating information. I will make sure that the student government will always be accessible to all the constituents keeping them aware of what Sanggunian has in store for them. I will strengthen the relationship between myself and the block representatives, to further hone their leadership capabilities and inculcate in them their true purpose. In this way, they are not just disseminators of information but also capable leaders. I would also want to collaborate with the SOSS Board members and officers to be able to plan feasible goals and projects that will pave way for institutional and societal changes, the Ateneo accredited and non-accredited orgs to be able to maximize the talents and capabilities of their members and a tie up with SOSE, SOH, SOM and other universities.

Block Rep Meetings – This will be done at least once a month. In this way, they would also be aware of what's in store and could also contribute substantially to the Sanggunian not just disseminating information. It is also an avenue for them to raise their concerns to the Sanggunian making them more involved in the decision-making process. This will also foster camaraderie that will build a strong personal inter relationship between and among members

Open Seminars - For this particular event, I will be getting 3-5 students from each block of the SOSS to attend. It is an inevitable occurrence that a block might not have a block rep that's why through this event I plan to cater to the needs of our constituents, those who have block reps and those who don't. In this way, there would be equal opportunities not only for the block reps but also for the students to voice out their concerns and have a peek on the services Sanggunian has to offer. Hopefully through this event, leadership won't only be limited to those who were elected but to each individual as well.

SOSS

SOSS Board Meetings – The SOSS Board shall have regular meetings to brainstorm on what will be happening inside and outside SOSS. This will help us create projects and set goals that will address the needs and concerns of the SOSS

Tie ups with Ateneo accredited and non-accredited organizations – This will address the concerns and needs of each organization, should they need assistance. Also, the students are always kept updated on what's in store per organization.

Networking with the student government of SOSE, SOH, SOM and other universities – I believe that a character should be formed, holistically. Through networking, and conferences, we could have an insight on how the other student governments work to address their students allowing each student to learn from one another.

2. INFORMATIVE SERVICES

The media play a big role in information dissemination because everyone uses a form of media in relating to or with people especially in this era of advanced technology. Daily Announcements through:

Facebook (Group, Page) and Twitter – The most effective way of disseminating information is through online announcements. The facebook page and twitter accounts shall be viewable to the public. An online calendar will also be prepared.

Text Brigade – To accommodate people who do not regularly access the internet and those who do not have facebook/ Twitter accounts. This will also be used in case of emergencies and important announcements.

Daily Bulletin –The official bulletin board of the SOSS in school will be updated regularly.

3. MAXIMIZATION

As future leaders of this country, it is deemed necessary that we are prepared and properly trained to render service not only for people we know but for everyone. I, as a student leader, want to maximize all resources and opportunities that have been provided to us. I want to maximize the full potential of each SOSS orgs to be able to contribute and give services to students even academically. Furthermore, I also want to maximize the capabilities of each student, to be able to tap their talents and capabilities by learning how to be charitable. Not only should we be providing services inside the four walls of this school but also to try and reach out to people outside of our homes, outside Ateneo. I plan to do this by tying up with orgs in the hope of being able to reach out and touch more minds and hearts.

Study Aids – Just like any other Atenean student, I am also beset with a lot of academic challenges. The transition from first year to second year would be different and challenging with the addition of the major subjects such as Economics, POS etc. The Study Aids aims to lessen and to lighten the burden. The main benefactors of the Study Aids are the Orgs. I will ensure that the home orgs under the SOSS are productive by involving them in worthwhile undertaking that will be beneficial and relevant not only for the students but also for themselves.

Mentoring and tutoring – With the help of the upperclassmen, I hope to provide mentoring and tutoring services to sophomore students for its particular subject. Photocopies of reviewers/notes and hand-outs would be made available for students.

PLATFORM

The Christian Union for Socialist and Democratic Advancement has had a long history of groundbreaking legislation. Freedom of Academic Information, the Red Plate Act, as well as initiating Sanggunian involvement with the Anti-APECO Taskforce, and many other instances. But without an executive officer that is willing to carry out and disseminate these laws, then everything will be a waste. That's why my partner, Fil Garciano and I believe that our platforms should coincide and align to be able to properly and efficiently accomplish projects.

Enlistment Reform

I believe that the majority should decide whether there should be two or four batches also, that the whole interface of AISIS be renewed to aid the students for an easier and faster enrollment process. This can only be done and decided upon through surveys of the students. Not by their block representatives but within the site itself as a pre or post requisite to enrollment.

Academic Reform

There are many complaints on how the professors handle their classes and their grading system but all these are just talk that circulate the campus. If elected, I believe that these critiques deserve to be heard by the block reps, and evaluated with the executive officer to be brought up to the central board to seek change.

Consultation and Information Dissemination Reform

As we all know, there is a very weak connection between the Sanggunian and its students. Most students are unaware of the projects and issues happening around the campus and the country or even the mere information of suspension during the rainy season. It is a common reality for an Atenean to get stranded in campus because he/she did not know that classes were suspended. I would like to make a project where in photos and short videos will be spread around the Internet to update Ateneans about what's happening and if possible, to be shown at the televisions in Gonzaga to make sure that the students really see it.

The individual consultation with the block representatives: To be able to properly monitor the projects the Sanggunian would like to accomplish, I will need the help of the representatives and in order to do so, I will require a bi-monthly meeting and a monthly consultation with each representative and of course if possible, I would like to have my CB present in these meetings.

SOSS

Empowerment Projects

As the executive officer of the sophomore batch, I would like to formulate a manual that will help my batchmates with the how to's of shifting and minoring. As early as now, the woes of the students are that they are not in the right course but they do not want to shift because they don't know how or it might be too much of a hassle. I want to make a manual to help them step-by-step and to show them that it's not as hard as it seems.

The school of social sciences being a school of diverse courses, many of its students tend to ask the question what am I going to do after college? Is there only one path to take with this course? I would like to hold talks for different courses to help them see that there are great opportunities of each of their courses and to empower them to think outside the box especially with their futures.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: 3 SOSS Central Board Representative

Full Name: Raphael Niccolò L. Martinez

Name on Ballot: Polo Martinez

PLATFORM

My platform is premised on the idea that students see their educational life as being confined merely within the halls of Ateneo. The problem here is that one's education can never be reduced to the halls of the school when in fact real education is being able to immerse oneself in the exteriority of the world we have grown comfortable with. My vision then is for students to understand that we all have a stake in the social processes at large. In doing so, they would find a deeper relevance in campus politics, make them more analytical in how they perceive the structures that govern us and engender a sense of belongingness in what they have seemingly deemed irrelevant. My platform therefore enriches the students' education in Ateneo.

1. Institutionalization of House of Representatives (HOR)

The HOR will provide a space for students to be consulted more easily and efficiently. We recognize that block and course reps are important because of their close relationship to the student body. For this reason, block and course reps must be given the mandate to vote on legislations and/or resolutions proposed in the Central Board. Whatever is discussed in the CB meetings should rightfully be scrutinized by the block and course representatives. The HOR recognizes that the reps decisions would more representative of the student body because they have a more expedient knowledge of what decisions would be beneficial or detrimental to the welfare of their constituent.

➤ Bridging the Schism: Grassroots & Government

- The HOR creates a systematized method for students to be able to properly consult the representatives they have voted into position (e.g. CB, EO, Block rep).
- The students are finally given a stake in the policy-making of the Central Board as the proceedings in CB would have to be filtered through their representatives.
- Through the mandate of the block/course reps to be able to vote, all of us would have a greater assurance that no voice would be left unheard.
- A deeper understanding of the social processes we are all circumscribed by would give us a more meaningful appreciation on the role of government thereby making campus politics a lot more relevant by establishing a space for it to be fully engaged.

➤ Politicization: Relevance of Legislations

- Although the Central Board always makes it a point that students' concerns are well heard of and catered to, what occurs within it still remains a revolving query in the greater student populace.
- What occurs in the halls of legislature should not only be transparent but it should also be adequately reached-out to the students. The problem here does not lie so much in the issue of transparency anymore but the level of expediency and effectiveness of legislations.
- The mandate of the block and course representatives to vote then provides a direct link in accountability between the elected officials in the CB and the constituency they represent. The trajectory of power from grassroots to government is thereby shortened giving legislations more space to be fully scrutinized.
- In essence, Representation is given more specific avenues to be adequately and efficiently exercised and students are given a broader environment to be consulted.

SOSS

➤ Re-definition: Role of Block & Course Representatives

- It has always been an assumption that the sole task of block and course representatives is to provide the rather simplistic task of disseminating information to his fellow student. And although this is not necessarily the case, the provisions of the constitution seem to greatly limit the mandate of these positions who should rightfully serve as empowered student representatives.
- We recognize that the block/course reps can actually give a more specific and exclusive analyses of the environment that his/her block mates have been accustomed to. Giving them a vote in the Central Board would thereby make the legislations more context-specific contingent to the consent of the different blocks.
- It is here where we find a convergence in what is deemed as effective legislation and expedient legislating. The block and course reps' roles as representatives, therefore, are validated.
- The block and course reps are no more mere "information-disseminators," but empowered representatives who know that they rightfully should have a stake in the policy-making of the institution.

2. Social Formation

I believe that disposition is a key cultural aspect embedded in people's way of life. Perspective is always dependent on how one's educational setting he was brought up in. However, realizing the full extent of your education should always go beyond the dogma one learns in school. Immersing oneself in the dealings of society would be able to nourish a sense of identity that is profoundly imbued within the context of the social. That is, the discursive element of society. I aim to push for this formation through two avenues.

➤ Committee on Formation Services (CFS)

- CFS is in-charge of handling the basic INAF programs (i.e. InTACT, NSTP, JEEP) in coordination with OSCI. Through the committee, basic socially formative service-learning programs can be re-examined in order to cater better to the skills and capacities of students. Giving us a more expedient understanding of the social issues that incessantly grip us at a national level. These programs need to adequately be patterned after the specific courses' skills and expertise.
- Opening dialogue between students and the different sectors of society in recognition that the student is not bound by simply time and space but structures that dictate your every move facilitating the routine that one goes through every day.

➤ Committee on Socio-Political Affairs (CSPA)

- Enabling the student body to come to a deeper understanding of real-time issues requires us to be able to deliver the message in a language they would be able to appreciate. Through the CSPA, this could be accomplished by coordinating with various NGOs that have the utilities, means and resources to convey their plight to an audience that has seemed to have long departed from the complexities of these social issues.

1) Career Integration

Most of the courses in SOSS give its students many career paths to choose from. Often, one will keep changing their mind throughout the first couple of years in their stay. As juniors, we are well on our way to being seniors, and pretty soon we're going to have our practicum, where we have things like on-the-job-training and internship. As CB Rep, I want to help us in our career choice discernment through coordinating with the Ateneo Placement Office in order to extend the opportunities they give to seniors to lower batches, as well as getting them to sync with our home departments and maybe even orgs (given their equally diverse nature) in order to better specialize the options that we, as students will choose from.

2) Structural Awareness and Participative Review

We should be able to know what exactly they're paying for in our tuition: where the money is spent, and whether the money spent is completely justified or not. Moreover, SOSS being a school filled with diverse people with diverse needs uses school facilities and services a lot. We should not only pay our tuition (like how we still pay PE fees even when we're not taking PE). It would also be helpful to know about certain processes regarding the use of these facilities, such as the OAS. As CB, I want to be able to listen to issues and voice out people's concerns about these facilities.

3) Conversational Leadership

One of the things I didn't really feel was communication with my Sanggu officers; I only really felt Sanggu when there were typhoons and class suspensions. I believe that leadership is a conversation between a leader and his or her constituents; we can't have a Sanggu that moves without listening to the students, nor can we have one that is driven purely by the students. A leader is elected with the duty not only to listen to his constituency, but also be with them in order to more effectively communicate with them. The ones who'll most be able to talk to you guys will be your course reps, because they're your coursemates-people taking the same courses and facing many of the same problems. As CB, I will make it a point to make sure they have the right and the power to voice out these concerns. I will make it a point to hear and be heard. I will make it a point to talk with you.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: SOSS 3 Executive Officer
Full Name: Ace Paolo M. Dela Cruz
Name on Ballot: Ace Paolo Dela Cruz

PLATFORM

The Ateneo Sanggunian, in its quest to establish an efficient and holistically formed student governing body, should be at forefront of representing and providing the basic necessities of the students while extending its efforts to the situations beyond Ateneo—where greater sphere of social struggles and injustices lie. While the Sanggunian believes that students are top of their priority, the Sanggunian must also challenge the students themselves to be involved with the things that concern our country as a whole. Hence, this platform, with my purest intentions, aims to live up to this “ideal” state of the Sanggunian, specifically in the School of Social Sciences (SOSS), through CREATING OPPORTUNITIES where students can empower themselves and create their own ripples of change. These opportunities include Leadership Formation and Politicization, Batch Empowerment and Inclusive Representation and Academic Support and Networking.

▪ LEADERSHIP FORMATION & POLITICIZATION

We are more than just students. I believe that our misconceived identity as a ‘student’ or an ‘Atenean’—someone who’s afraid to take a hardline position—has left a lot of students permissive to the call of times, allowing ourselves be confined within our comfort zones. I believe that there is a great need to revive the ‘Atenista’ to live up with our Ignatian values of being socially and politically involved, culturally rooted and being men and women for others.

To achieve this, I plan to conduct several Political Education Sessions and Social Issues Forums where students can have the opportunity to gain a comprehensive, critical understanding of the issues and social struggles that are plaguing our nation today. Through the discussions of key political issues (eg. contractualization, gender empowerment, agrarian reform), we can be able to bridge the gap between the concerns within and beyond the University, removing the barriers that desist us from being socially involved in the ‘outside world.’

Partnership with Outside Organizations representing the marginalized would also be a great opportunity for Atenista’s not only to be aware but also to be personally engaged with socio-political issues of our country. Hence, I plan to take the lead in doing campaigns and formation of task forces promoting the rights of various marginalized sectors. This is where students can fully be involved as it will eventually create a domino effect for students to be more participative.

▪ B. BATCH EMPOWERMENT & INCLUSIVE REPRESENTATION

In order to have a closer relationship with the member base of the Sanggunian, I intend to have Bi-Monthly Consultations with Course Representatives including the OIC’s. Being the school board’s mobilization and communication arm, these 27 course representatives in the junior year have a vital role in the Sanggunian. Beyond information dissemination, their role is to ensure that the basic needs and concerns of their coursemates are being met. These one-on-one monthly consultations will enable us know what their concerns are and how we can possibly ensure their expectations and proposals for the Sanggunian are being addressed. Expect that there would also be group consultations (ie. in the form of meeting) so that these representatives can share their collective thoughts and insights, keeping them in track of the programs and projects of the SOSS Sanggunian. This will be important since it has been traditionally noted that some of the representatives get lost in the middle of the semester due to the inconsistent meetings that are being held.

One of the main problems of the Sanggunian, is its failure to create an avenue where representatives could be integrated to a more representative, participatory and inclusive Chapter Board. CB officers decide things on their own without letting these representatives be given a chance to vote. By Tapping and Requiring the Course Representatives to attend Chapter Board (CB) Meetings, they are more empowered to be engaged in decision-making activities of the Sanggunian. This will help them as well represent their own courses through becoming the CB Reps' consultative arm since they know best the concerns of their constituents.

Being in charge of the formulation of projects and programs, the school board, including the representatives, must also be empowered and be given the fundamentals on how to handle projects the time they are elected. Through the Conduct of Program Management Seminars (PMS), we will be more knowledgeable and well-trained to propose SOSS-related projects and activities that will be of a greater benefit to the student body.

▪ C. ACADEMIC SUPPORT & NETWORKING

The junior year is where most students take their free electives and course electives. However, it has been noted that a lot of students are having a hard time choosing for their electives—either they do not know what electives are being offered or what these electives are all about. Hence, through the Creation of Comprehensive and Complete List of Electives, students can already access it online and will lessen their burden during enlistment processes. This directory will primarily contain the elective's name, course description, teachers and remarks from previous takers.

It is also during this term (ie. junior year) where students apply and study outside the country through the Junior Term Abroad (JTA). To keep a lot of students in track of the processes, application requirements, financial costs and other types of preparations, I plan to create an online page containing the Step-by-Step JTA Application and Processes in partnership with the SOSS JTA Coordinator and the Office of International Relations.

Aside from having these online pages for the electives and JTA applications, I also feel the need of having a partnership with the Ateneo Placement Office to provide a better and more cohesive Internship Opportunities for SOSS Majors. These opportunities would not include multi-national corporations or agencies, instead, government agencies and non-stock and non-profit organizations of different sectors where SOSS majors can fully unleash their potentials in a workplace that is perfectly suited for them. These internship programs will not just serve as an experience but these will also allow the students immerse themselves to the social reality outside the Ateneo.

Definitely, these things will not be an easy task. But I do believe that with everyone's help and cooperation, nothing is impossible. These opportunities, I believe, are reflective of the mutual thrusts of the School of Social Sciences and the Sanggunian—empowering the students while helping the student transcend their roles as mere 'Ateneans.' So long as there is a clear representation of the students and the student body's active participation on the situations beyond the Ateneo, the Sanggunian and the Atenista will remain.

Being the Social Sciences Major I am, I really enjoy observing all kinds of people, doing it either unconsciously or when actually engaged in a conversation. It is through observing that one gets to learn so much in a relatively short amount of time. What I've learned from the past year until now is that there is a strong sense of apathy and indifference that runs deep, an indifference towards even the Sanggunian. Yet, coupled with this indifference, I see many individuals burning with passion, a passion to serve others. However, it is a sad reality that not many people know where to voice or direct their passion and concerns. That is why I believe genuine change in our systems can truly only start from within, within the depths of the Atenean Heart. It is only the Heart that can move people to selfless service. Let's start a Heart revolution!

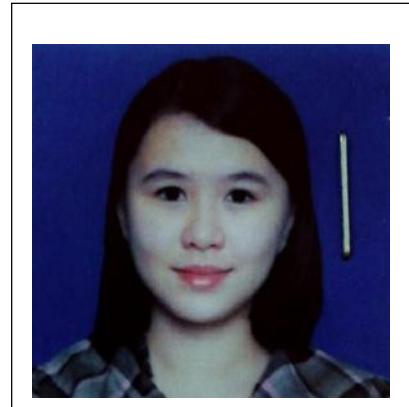

- 1) Harness the relationships between Sanggu and all existing organizations within the Ateneo -> I think that there are times that Sanggu is often perceived to compete with other orgs. This is not true, as we are really here to support you guys. Sanggu only wishes to support your causes.
- 2) Explore new ways to positively interact and have more tie-ups with different organizations and with the different schools -> I think there is so much that every student can do to contribute, even by just a little. By having tie-ups with different orgs as well as the other schools, Sanggu will be able to be more relevant and more reachable by the student population, and its projects will have more variation.
- 3) Actively address issues brought up by both the students and those outside our school -> I know that there are many people who want to voice their concerns and take a stand, but are either afraid of causing a ruckus or are too uninformed to know what to do. Hopefully we can change that and create new guidelines to help students act by communicating with the students more efficiently, and with more transparency.

SOSS

- 4) Responsibly participate in creating social awareness towards current and old issues. -> First and foremost, I feel that we must focus on internal issues of the Ateneo, such as dealing with the environment. While reacting to pressing social issues such as the Cybercrime law, the RH law, Sin Tax, and the like come next.
- 5) Take the Initiative and act as vanguards for transformational social change and empowerment - > By staying at the frontlines, Sanggu will strive to pave a path for others to follow. As seemingly vast and diverse the School of Social Sciences is, I know that as long as there is a common cause or reason, then we can all grow in unity. I plan to invite public speakers who can advocate causes that are relevant to all SOSS students, and I believe this can help students confidently and wisely assess what career paths they should take.

I like to work given a set plan and to follow that plan all throughout the course of the work. I have decent skills in terms of writing and composition. I lean more towards being a team worker rather than a solitary worker.

Interests:

I love to listen and to create music. Particularly, I like to play the guitar and drums. I also take interest into nature and landscape photography; and going out for a run. I like to be with people whether I know them or not since I take comfort in being able to communicate and articulate ideas among individuals.

2013 SANGGUNIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Position Aspiring for: SOSS 4 Central Board Representative
Full Name: Justin S. Asinas
Name on Ballot: Justin S. Asinas

PLATFORM

My platform would circle around the emphasis on transparency, active student involvement and representation by the Sanggunian Central Board, followed by the proliferation of politics through emphasizing issues both inside and outside schools.

TRANSPARENCY

The main agenda I want to push for is giving due emphasis on how the Student Activities Funds (SAF) are allocated. Supposedly, these funds are set aside for the students, fostering their desires to mobilize their interests primarily through organizational activities. I aim to propose an agenda targeting to have an update, a complete and published financial statement by the Office of Student Activities (OSA) with regard to the overall expenditures requested and received by every organization. I also want to push for a yearly update on the overall expenses and budget allotted for the organizations, disclaiming whether there are unspent funds which would ideally be put into the next fiscal year's SAF. The aforementioned publications shall be in the form of a document, both printed and published online for use and access of students.

POLITICIZATION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

I firmly believe that being a student is not a limitation in itself. In fact, being a student is the foundation of bigger things to come, an occupation where your own interests inspire you to do something bigger than just achieving it. Another agenda would be with regard to politicization of student affairs with politicization operationalized as not only awareness but also creation of opportunities for involvement spearheaded by the Sanggunian and various student organizations. I plan to bridge partnerships through the specialization of various organizations and departments within Sanggunian to spearheaded contemporary pertinent issues both inside and outside the Ateneo. In this way, not only political awareness will be exercised but also the essential skill of students capability to firmly believe in their own stands backed up by sufficient reason and data. This will also be an avenue for students to further pursue their own, or their organizations interests, subsequently building not only networks but solid relationships with other organizations and departments. Furthermore, this entails that I plan to create stands with regard to the pertinent issues outside of Loyola Schools to raise political awareness and to further nourish political capabilities through the expansion of social networks outside campus.

CONCRETE REPRESENTATION

With regard specifically towards the Discipline Committee, I aim for the use and practice of fair trial with regard to students' cases. The Central Board Representatives have the responsibility to defend the students in trial up to the full extent of the law and should not merely act as a jury. The student in trial shall be perceived as a constituent held accountable for his actions and he or she should not handle this trial alone. Hence, he or she should be accompanied and properly represented by the CB Representatives, the same representatives who are well articulate and informed about the Magna Carta as well as the Sanggunian Constitution.

PLATFORM

AWARENESS

- There are so many things happening outside and even inside the Ateneo that we are unaware of. As an executive officer, I want SOSS to be aware of what's happening around them but also go beyond the realms of the Ateneo – I want everyone to start inside our school, see the bigger picture outside and start to create impact. There are often talks and forums about different issues but students seem to always be lacking time. Therefore, in partnership with the Department of Communications and the planned Department of Research and Statistics, I want to release infographics about the pressing issues that we are experiencing inside and outside of the Ateneo. These infographics will be deployed in different social networking sites – where it will be more visible to the student body – and in the monthly Sanggunian bulletin.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

Partnerships

- Partnerships between two different parties should not only happen during big events (e.g. SOSS Week). The Sanggunian must be visible all throughout the year and must always be of help to the various SOSS organizations – and this can happen through partnerships with different projects of SOSS organizations and by taking an interdisciplinary approach in implementing projects. The organizations will be able to get ample support and exposure from the Sanggunian, while the student body and the representatives are given more avenues for participation and development. For an instance, when organizations want to make their projects bigger than usual, I can give them more money to expand – also making the distribution of SAF that every student pays for more efficient. Orgs can also be given the chance to partner with other orgs to make their projects bigger, or make new approaches to different projects by partnering with other orgs. As an executive officer, I want to be the person bridging and helping the different SOSS organizations.

SOSS

- Since the courses offered by SOSS are inter-disciplinary, I plan to link the various disciplines of SOSS through the Seniors' Support System. Students can approach their course representatives during instances that they need help in certain subjects, whether it be core or a major subjects. Once again, as an executive officer, I will be bridging different groups of SOSS. For an instance, an AB Com major may need the disciplines and knowledge of an AB MEC major in doing a thesis. I will also expand the support system that existing orgs have in order to extend the coverage of services given.

Seniors' Legacy

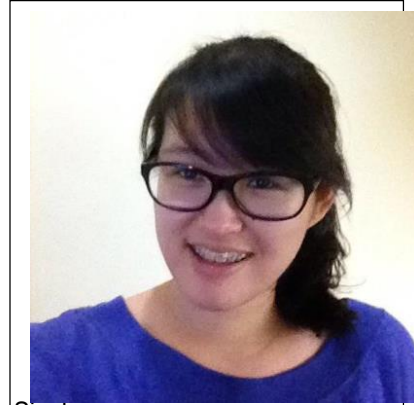

- I plan to create something for the people in the Ateneo while we are still in it; and as we go down from the hill, I want the graduating batch to leave a mark and give back to the Ateneo. I plan to continue the Seniors' Legacy of the current SOSS Sanggunian. As an executive officer, I want to create a lounge for the drivers who wait all day under the sun. Included in the planned lounge will be a proper restroom, which the drivers can use for different purposes.

MEMBERSHIP FORMATION

- The course representatives are one the closest links of the Sanggunian to the general student body. As an executive officer, I plan to have a tight relationship with the course representatives – I plan to have normal consultations with the course representatives and the people they represent, while organizing team-building activities through the help of the existing Department of Representative Formation.

Legacy.

Every batch wants to leave their mark on the school. I believe that the best way to do this is by working closely together with batch coordinating assembly on a project that can foster creativity and freedom of expression. Our batch has gone through a lot during our stay in the Ateneo. Together with the other representatives from our batch, I will push to create something the School of Social Sciences batch 2014 can be proud of. Together, we will identify what makes us distinct as a batch. As Executive Officer, I will make sure that everyone can be a part of that process.

Integration.

Most of us are going to be leaving the school next year. We need to emphasize the fact that we need to start getting ready for the world outside of the Ateneo so I plan to work closely with the Loyola School Office of Placement to ease our batch's transition into the world beyond the hill. The networking abilities of the Ateneo Placement Office will be one of the final gifts that the Ateneo will provide for us as a graduating class and I intend to help the batch to be able fully utilize it. The placement office will help us find jobs that will allow us to apply what we learned in the Ateneo and help keep alive the Ateneo way.

Fulfillment.

We all know that we have a tough year ahead of us with thesis, the rest of our academics, being in high positions in organizations, and the nostalgia that will hit us soon, so to have a fulfilling experience in the Ateneo, I will push for projects that will get more people involved and allow people to have more great memories to look back on. I plan to have SOSS batch nights targeted to be once every two months. At these SOSS batch night activities, I plan to play games that will help us have fun experiences that will foster togetherness in our batch to give the SOSS seniors the most enjoyable year that they could possibly have. I know I have many fond memories of being with SOSS students and that is a sentiment that I would like to share with my entire batch.

The financial difficulties of our last year will be a hurdle that many students will have difficulties getting over. In line with this, we realize that students need help financing their studies. As a governing body, we must be able to help our students do what needs to be done in order to excel as much as possible. Having thesis grants will be able to help our students worry less about their financial issues but breathe easier knowing that their student body supports them in their endeavors. We want them to know that during stressful times that their student leaders know what they are feeling and that we will do what we can in our power to help them breathe a little easier.

Togetherness.

Every year, executive officers always dream of making their batch more united and I am no exception to the rule. I aim to initiate more activities within the school batch to continue the networking that will allow us to interact more with each other and hopefully develop relationships that will last. Other than that, I will work together with the home organizations, accredited and unaccredited, to be able to reach my batch mates further since we know how much they value their organizations. This will help not only our batch but also the batches below us. Togetherness not only includes our batch but the batches that look up to us as the graduating class to be able to guide them properly.

I want to be able to consult very closely with the course representatives to be able to find out what our constituents really want. In line with this, I would like to have monthly group meetings between myself and the representatives to assess what we need or want as a batch. I will also be very open to individual consultations with my constituents to go directly to the source and ask them how they are doing and what I as an executive officer can do for them. This will allow them to feel empowered as well as significant which they really are.
